A FUTURE WITHOUT FEAR...FOR EVERY FAMILY

"No one man—certainly not I—nor any political party could ever truthfully pretend that his efforts — or its efforts — alone can bring all good things to pass.

"But I dare speak a simple belief and—a simple prayer.

"I would dare believe that history may say that, during the years of my first Administration, the faith of our people—in the growth of peace and of justice — grew steadily stronger.

"And I would pray that — if it be the people's will that I continue my present service — the years of my second Administration may prove that—thanks to the labor of all Americans — this faith was justified."

NO SNOW WORRIES FOR DAYS

A novel device installed recently in the black top drive to the rear parking area of Days Electric should prove to be what most of us have wished for many times in our lives. poisett is showing with much pleasure a birthday card from the White House, Washington, D. C.

Learning that she and President Eisenhower share the same birthday, October 14th, Miss Little sent him a card of congratulations and well wishes.

The card received in reply expresses appreciation and a return message of birthday greetings. The card is engraved and bears the official seal of the United States of America, but the signature is in President Eisenhower's own handwriting.

FELLOWSHIP TO SPONSOR MARTIN LUTHER FILM

The Senior Pilgrim Fellowship of the First Congregational Church of Rochester will sponsor a showing of a Martin Luther film at the church Sunday evening, November 4th at 7 o'clock. It is open to the public and they would like to have as many people come as possible. It is the first time that this film has been shown in this town and also the first time that the young people have undertaken such a project. A free will offering will be taken to pay for the film. The film, which lasts 1½ hours, is both religious and historical.

MATTAPOISETT CENTER SCHOOL NEWS

Helpers for Mrs. Martin's grade 1 were Susan Brule, William Days, Charles Cordeiro, Anne Silsby, Douglas Turner, Lawrence Smith and Walter Sylvia.

David Helfand brought in a toy piano to help with their exhibit next month.

Mrs. Martin started to read "Bambi" which Luisann Flanders brought in.

The class has learned a poem about a rabbit. They also have a riddle about a pumpkin on their bulletin board. They can read almost all of it.

The first grade is learning about the meaning of 6 this week. They counted out 6 milk bottle caps and each had them on their desks, and made them into different arrangements.

In Mrs. Pallatroni's room the boys and girls are going to conduct a Hallowe'en experiment. A pumpkin will be taken and cleaned with just a top cut. A lit candle will then be placed in the pumpkin. The features of the face will be than cut and the class will note how much air is needed to make the candle burn.

In Miss Schofield's grade 3 the class wrote stories and drew pictures of the birch bark canoes the Indians used in traveling many years ago.

In science they are learning how things that contain iron get rusty in water. They have put tacks, paper clips, jack stones, combs and beads in water.

In art they enjoyed making masks out of paper plates with Mrs. Tuttle's third grade, and Mrs. Walker helping.

Grade 4y has been writing myths that explain such things as why snow is white and why the leaves fall in autumn. Among those who had stories that were very imaginative were Wayne Sheffield, Celia Purrington, Diana Warburton, Phyllis Ledoux, Jay Hillman, Richard Sawyer and Jeff Andrews. Jay Hillman's was voted the best by the class. His title was "Why the Sky is Blue".

Miss Cushman's fifth grade has completed its study of the social studies unit "Thirteen Colonies Become the United States". In connection with this unit in addition to the material in the text book, the class made picture posters of "Paul Revere's Ride", listened to the poem "Paul Revere's Ride" by Henry Longfellow and compared the poet's account with the real historical facts; and with the use of the opaque projector, they saw many additional pictures showing events and leaders of the Revolutionary War, and the events leading up to this war.

In science they finished their study of green plants and are beginning the unit on "Why We Have Different Seasons".

In grade 6x the class is reviewing, in arithimetic, long division, finding trial divisions and the use of zeros in the quotient.

In language they are practicing punctuation, the use of the comma between dates, between names of cities and states, between words in a series and between names of a person addressed and rest of a sentence.

In reading they are developing better comprehension, picking out titles for paragraphs, oral explanations of material read, writing summaries of short stories.

They are making further study of primitive man in history. He learns to weave, to work with clay, to be thrifty and to plan ahead and to count.

In geography, the class is studying the British colonies in Africa, their value to the Mother country and why they are seeking independence today.

The ninth grade football team will play the eigth grade team this Thursday at 2:30 P.M. The ninth graders are a six point favorite, but the eighth graders are looking forward for the big upset of the year.

THE WHITE HOUSE
WASHINGTON

Dear Fellow Citizen:

I am sure you share my conviction that our American system of government operates most effectively when the Executive and the Legislative branches are operated by the same political party. I believe this accomplishes two important results: First, it fixes responsibility for the legislative program of the Administration. Second, it enables the Administration to enact into law those measures which it believes are right and necessary for the country.

Consequently, those who believe in and intend to support the Republican Administration will wish to further assure the success of our cause by aggressively supporting Republican candidates for Congress and for the Senate.

Sincerely,

Dwight D. Eisenhower

FAIRHAVEN HIGH WINS OVER NEW BEDFORD HIGH BY SCORE OF 21 to 0

In a hard fought game an inspired iron man team of Fairhaven High School outplayed the larger squad of New Bedford High School in their annual football classic at Sargent Field last Saturday. Although outmanned and outweighed the Fairhaven team led all the way and then scored twice in the closing minutes to make the game a rout. Congratulations are due to all the men on the squad and to the coach, Mel Entin. This has been a fine year for the team as their only loss so far was a 6 to 0 loss to Durfee High of Fall River in a game in which Fairhaven outplayed Durfee.

GUEST OF HONOR AT STORK SHOWER

Mrs. Lester Teixeira of County Road, Mattapoisett was the guest of honor at a shower given to her by her friends and relatives at the home of Mrs. Edford Seeley of Pine Island Road, Mattapoisett.

"Tillie" was completely surprised when she walked into Mrs. Seeley's living room to a room full of waiting friends.

She received many lovely and useful gifts which were held in an old heirloom cradle in the center of the room.

A buffet lunch of sandwiches, cake and coffee were served by the hostess, Mrs. Seeley, in her beautiful dining room.

The table was very attractively decorated with silver candalabras and tall pink candles.

Mrs. Anthony Lawrence, sister of Mrs. Teixeira, had created a most unique centerpiece for the table. Milkweed pod "cradles" were suspended by ribbons from a bough which had been painted a soft pink. The "cradles" were also painted, and inside each was held a tiny baby, nestled in milkweed down.

Narrow light green ribbon suspended the cradles from each twig with a pink chrysanthemum caught at the point of attachment to the twig.

The "tree" was held in a bowl filled with green moss, and nestled in the moss "grew" pretty pink chrysanthemums. It was a very lovely creation.

COVER PICTURE

Our portrait cover is a picture of a great American and is not a political forecast. The paper is being printed even as we go to the polls to select our leaders. We won't know until Wednesday morning who has been selected as our President, and by then your Presto will be in the mail. We admire this man who has served this country in so many capacities and feel that few men have ever enjoyed the confidence and admiration of so many of his fellow citizens regardless of political party. If Mr. Stevenson should win today he will have the satisfaction of beating the very best opponent that could face him.

OPEN HOUSE TO BE HELD AT CENTER SCHOOL

The public is invited to attend open house at the Mattapoisett Center School this Thursday evening, November 8th, from 7 to 8 o'clock. This is a good occasion to meet the teachers at school and see the work the children have been doing.

At 8 o'clock the P. T. C. will hold a short business meeting. Our organization is only as good as you make it, not by just paying dues but by attending the meetings.

Don't forget the Book Fair which is to be held all day Thursday during visitors' day and in the evening. This is the first time that a Book Fair has been held in this town, and by all reports should be well accepted as the choice of books are top quality reading from the first grade up through the adult group. Attend if only out of curiosity.

Thursday is also the night of the Apron Sale so if you forget to send your aprons in by your children that day, bring them to the meeting and they shall be more than welcome. The more we have the bigger the sale.

ROCHESTER SCHOOL COMMITTEE ATTEND MEETING

Rochester School Committee attended the semi-annual meeting of Union #36 at the Assawompset School in Lakeville. The towns in Union #36 are Lakeville, Carver and Rochester. It was decided at the meeting to change the basis for division on the Union responsibilities as follows:

Lakeville 45%, Carver 30% and Rochester 25%. Previous figures were Lakveille 40%, Carver 30% and Rochester 30%. The Lakeville School Committee conducted their guests on a tour of the new school addition. The committees viewed with alarm rising costs of education. MATTAPOISETT HALLOWE'EN CELEBRATION

November 5, 1956

Helpers for Mrs. Martin's first grade this week were: Deborah Saunders, James Macomber, Douglas Jenney, Faith Perkins, Paul Zychowicz, Timothy Sullivan and Alice Valley.

We have been working on life-size pictures of ourselves this week. We put "hair" on the heads this week. We made it out of crepe paper.

We are making a surprise for our parents to see on Visitors' Day November 8th.

Luisann Flanders brought in a book called "Bambi" for Mrs. Martin to read. Everyone liked the story very much.

We are learning a new poem this week. It is about a little elf.

We learned on Thursday that a new month has begun. We put in the number for each day as it comes and are learning about numbers as well as the calendar.

Carol Mansfield brought in "Too Little" which Mrs. Martin will read Friday.

We will see a movie Friday about milk. The name of it is, "Milk for the Town".

Miss Schofield's third grade made an attractive border for Thanksgiving.

Good housekeepers for last week were Christopher Yard, Donna Hubbard, Franklin Harriman and Allen Lawrence Smith.

In view of the forthcoming elections, Mrs. Mulcahy's fourth grade has been learning a little about registration and voting, and what campaigns, polls and ballots are. Students held a mock registration and election and among those who helped at the "polls" were Phyllis Ledoux, Carol Oliviera, Jeff Andrews, Stephen Bailey, Marie Silveira, John DeMello, James Fitzpatrick, George Bumpus and Leo Dubreiul. Deborah Pate and David Andrews counted the ballots which gave a majority vote to Eisenhower.

★ Will Not Smoke

HEATILATOR

★ Circulates Warm Air

The secret of the Heatilator unit's circulated warmth lies in the double-walled firebox that surrounds the fire. Cool air, drawn in from floor level, is warmed by contact with the firebox walls. It then rises naturally, returning to the room through louvred openings. Formerly wasted up the chimney, this extra warmth circulates to every corner in the room—even adjoining rooms.

In connection with their study of the social studies unit "The Pioneers on the March", Miss Cushman's fifth graders are constructing a model of Boonesborough to be placed on the library table at the front of the room. Children who have brought in figurines and other materials to be used are Tommy Borges, Gerry Hopkins, Richard Green, Arthur Marcoux and Janice Sylvia.

Work on posters, maps, and bulletin boards is keeping Mr. Kennedy's grade six busy this last week before elections.

A committee has been appointed to work on the ballot to be used on election day, November 6. These will be distributed. A list of all voters in each grade has been obtained. Each home room will have a precinct worker from Mr. Kennedy's room to act as checker (on the way into the polling place), checker (on the way out of the polling place), warden (to pass out ballots), and a warden (to check each ballot box). After the election, the same students will check names, count ballots, and help determine results of balloting for the whole school. Some students are making ballot boxes to be used by each home room.

Judith Dexter and Deborah Nash have been decorating the windows in Mr. Kennedy's room with goblins, pumpkins, witches, and cats that the whole class have made in their spare time.

Joseph Washburn and James Sylvia have been keeping the room in tidy condition.

Joseph Washburn is lunchroom helper this week

The ninth grade football team, led by Manuel Santos, beat the eighth grade 18-0 Thursday afternoon. Santos scored once in the third quarter, and then made long runs in the last quarter to clinch the game. Ed Sylvia and George DeCosta also played a fine game for the winners. Bruce Dunn and Robert Bowman played their usual steady game for the losers.

Basketball practice will begin Monday, November 5. Mr. Kobak is looking forward to a large turnout and will keep a squad of about twelve boys. Manuel Santos and Norman Secia are returning lettermen. However, Charles Fermino, Robert Bowman, Clifton Akin, Michael Fitzgerald, Edward Sylvia and a newcomer, Joseph Johnson, are all possible first string material.

Mr. Kobak's seventh grade home room has planned a hay ride for November 17th at 12 noon. The class will bring their lunches and have a picnic when they reach their destination.

Grade nine at the Center School has chosen as its class motto "Knowledge is Power".

Two maps of the United States have been made. Penelope Corey, Catherine Nunes and Janice Brown worked on the Electoral Map showing what states went for each political party in 1952. Judith Dexter and Susan Luiz are working on the 1956 map and will color the states according to the results of November 6th, to compare with 1952.

Penelope Corey and Brenda Perry are making a chart containing each state's name with spaces left for the popular vote of both political parties.

A chart showing the membership of the U. S. House of Representatives in 1952, 1954 and to be completed after the election is being made by Frederick Lambert and Robert Joslin, Jr.

Joseph Costa and Craig Delano have made an electoral scoreboard for the presidential race which shows the number of electoral votes each state has. It also contains additional columns for Democratic and Republican votes, which will be placed in the columns according to the choice of each state.

A chart containing both parties' candidates for the offices of Governor, Lt.-Governor, Secretary of State, State Treasurer, Congressman, State Representative, Sheriff, and County Commissioner has been made by Susan Luiz and Deborah Nash. This chart is now on the bulletin board outside the office for all grades to see.

Robert Teachman and Deborah Nash are making a chart containing information on the U. S. Senate and candidates in the various states. This chart will make it convenient to total up the make-up of the U. S. Senate.

Two bulletin boards outside Room 10 have been furthering the election motif. Janice Brown, Michael McAdams, David Smith and Paul Morris have arranged these boards in an interesting and appealing manner.

The home room bulletin in Mr. Kennedy's division has been divided into equal spaces for Republican and Democratic political advertisements. Catherine Nunes and Susan Luiz have been caring for the Democratic side, while Linda Akin and Penelope Field have been continually altering the Republican side because of new materials coming in. Materials on all candidates were collected by David Smith for the Republicans and Joseph Costa for the Democrats, mimeographed and distributed to grades 6, 7, 8 and 9 for their respective bulletin boards. David and Joseph will go around to the various home rooms to answer further questions on both parties' candidates before the election.

FROM THE LOG OF THE WHALESHIP CHARLESTON BY DANIEL A. BALDWIN ON THE VOYAGE FROM JUNE 28, 1844 to MARCH 9, 1847.

July 24th. We take in sail at 6 with the wind blowing strong from the south and thick fog. Soon after we saw a ship to leeward. We ran down. She proved to be the COLUMBIA of New London. Capt. Chester went onboard. She had not taken a whale for a month. She has 1800 bbls. and the news she brings is discouraging enough. She says there is more than 200 sail scattered along the Coast and no whale in shore but Humpbacks. They seem to have disappeared. Two or three ships have crossed from the American side and report the whales scarce there. In crossing they saw no right whale until they got on to the Kamkatska (Kamchatka) whaling ground. They went to the north of the Aleutian and Fox islands. A long long voyage is now staring us poor devils in the face as we have now only 1800 barrels, and the Lord only knows when we shall get more. It is dangerous cruising near the shoreline in thick weather as there is reefs that make off a long way that is not laid down on the Charts.

July 25th. Friday we have moderate Gales from S.W. with fog. We fell in with 4 New London ships and had a Gam. Capt. Chester went onboard the HIBERNIA with Mr. Comstock, and Mr. Lyons went onboard the INDIAN CHIEF. The HIBERNIA had 1300 barrels, INDIAN CHIEF 1800, IZAAK WALTON 800, HOPEWELL of Warren 600. I was among the disappointed ones today. My letter was left at Lahina. No whale today. Reported NEWBURYPORT of Stonington 1500 barrels.

July 26th. Saturday we have fresh Gales from S.W. and fog the most of the day. This morning we saw the sun once more. At 8 A.M. saw 2 right whales. Lowered and chased them 4 hours. This day we unbend our fore and main topsails. We bend a new fore topsail of the main and an old maintopsail on the fore. It is so foggy at 4 P.M. that we take in sail. The water is very green. We sound but get no bottom with 100 fathoms.

July 28th. Monday we have strong gales from S.W.W. till 2 P.M. - then thick fog. We make sail at 11 A.M. The HOPEWELL still in sight. Saw no right whale. We have 2 or 3 hours sun this day.

July 29th. Tuesday we have light airs all around the compass. The sun arose clear. Then we have rain and fog. At 2 P.M. the wind settles in the S.W. and blows strong. Saw 2 sulphur bottoms and three sail. Mr. Lyons kills 2 birds that resemble ducks. A white Gull with blue wings settled at mast head near the man at the lookout and he caught him.

July 30th. Wednesday we have pleasant Gales from the southward and westward. Thick fog till 8 A.M. Then it clears up and we see the sun the rest of the day. It is far the pleasantest day we have had in 4 months. The snowclad hills of Kamkatska are in sight this day.

MATTAPOISETT VOTERS NOTE

If there is apathy and non interest in voting as was widely publicized before the election, it is not in the small towns of the United States. You will be interested to note that in Mattapoisett 1454 people voted out of a possible total of 1598 registered voters. This 91% average speaks for itself and if the country as a whole would do as well it would be a proud day for our system of government.

"AMY D" COVER PICTURE

The "Amy D", 31 foot 8 inch Alden designed auxiliary sloop, was built by Allan H. Vaitses for Douglas Richmond of Brookline, Mass. to replace a similar boat owned and sailed for thirty-two years by Mr. Richmond. The original boat was wrecked at Onset by the '54 hurricane. The "Amy D" was launched in July; and as soon as she was fitted out she sailed on a three week cruise to Maine and back. For the balance of the season she was kept off Burr Bros. Boatyard whence she was sailed around the bay and the islands on more than forty-five additional days, making her one of the most used boats of her size in the area. She is now hauled out for the winter at the Aucoot Cove Boatyard, Inc.

After building, she was hauled through town on Aucoot's huge trailer and launched at the Aucoot Boatyard, being christened by the owner's sister. A few items such as the spars and mainsail were salvaged from the old boat. The new roller reefing jib was supplied by Burr Bros. Marion Yard sail loft.

DR. LaSHANA SPEAKS AT GUILD MEETING

Dr. Newman J. LaShana gave a most interesting talk on "Women and International Relationships" at the meeting of the Women's Community Guild of the Mattapoisett Congregational Church held last Tuesday in the vestry. Dr. LaShana is the minister of the Memorial and North Methodist Churches in Plymouth, Mass. He was formerly a missionary to India where he spent 24 years.

Mrs. Frederic E. Reynard presided at the business meeting at which time it was voted to donate $10 to the Chinese Christian Church in Boston.

Plans for the annual Christmas Fair were discussed. The fair will be held Tuesday, November 27th from 10 to 3 in the church vestry. There will be a coffee hour from 10 to 11:30 and a luncheon will be served from 11:30 to 1:30. Many interesting items and homemade foods and candies will be on sale. Chairmen of the different tables are as follows: Mrs. George Bradley, aprons and Christmas decorations; Mrs. Louis Roberts, candy; Mrs. Anthony J. Sylvia, food; Mrs. Marshall Ross, candles, church stationery; Mrs. George Eldridge, plants; Mrs. Merrill B. Walker, white elephant; Miss Dorothy Fox, gifts, toys, dolls etc.; Mrs. Herbert D. Cray, Jr., parcel post and grabs; Mrs. Alan Perkins, jewelry and Mrs. Clifton Hatton, luncheon and coffee hour.

OPEN HOUSE AT CENTER SCHOOL

Open House was held last Thursday at the Mattapoisett Center School in conjunction with Education Week, and parents had the opportunity to visit the classrooms while in session and to talk with the teachers in the evening. An apron sale was also held by Mrs. Philip LeDoux and Mrs. Loren Mosher.

A short business meeting was presided over by William Matthews. It was voted to give $100. for the visual aid program and $35 for the school welfare fund. Ira R. Hiller, 2nd, was thanked for the tags for the annual Tag Day which he donated.

Mrs. Elinor Martin's first grade will display the banner this month for having the most parents present at the meeting.

Refreshments were enjoyed at the social hour served by Mrs. Horace Darrah, chairman, Mrs. Donald C. Chase, Mrs. Ross Hopkins, Mrs. Clifton Macomber, Mrs. Frederic E. Reynard and Mrs. Allen Sherman.

DR. FARRELL ADDRESSES ROCHESTER WOMAN'S CLUB

Members of the Rochester Woman's Club heard a very fine talk by Dr. Gabriel Farrell on his book, "The Story of Blindness", at the monthly meeting on Wednesday evening. Rochester residents will be interested to know that this book is now available at the Rochester Public Library. Dr. Farrell was a director at the Perkins Institute for the Blind before he retired and has travelled extensively in foreign lands setting up schools for the blind. He is now permanent chairman for the blind at the United Nations.

In his talk, Dr. Farrell said that before the year 1749 there was a long period of intolerance when the blind were regarded as outcasts and even today this situation still persists in many parts of the world. Organizations were formed for blind beggars in various countries as a sort of security. In Japan, the blind were used as living history books, each person memorizing a certain era. He mentioned the great scholars and bards of this period who were blind, among them England's John Milton who wrote some of his best work after he lost his sight. They were, as he put it, some of the shooting stars in the great sea of blindness, which proves that the blind can rise to points of greatness and be of contribution to the world. 1749 was the beginning of some actual help in the program for the blind with the first script and the development of the Braille system. Later, in the United States, Samuel Gridley Howe set up the Perkins School for the Blind and other schools throughout the country after he had studied abroad.

There is now a move to educate the blind in their own communities so that they are better able to adjust to normal living and enter into public life after graduating from school. Children who are handicapped in this way should be encouraged to move about as normally as possible and mingle with other children. The three things that are needed to be done today are more in the way of medical research to find out the causes for blindness, physical rehabilitation and social acceptance.

Mrs. Frank Howland presided at the business meeting. Guests present from Marion were Mrs. Alphonse W. Query, president of the Sippican Woman's Club, and Mrs. Malcolm Bullivant. Mrs. Howland spoke of her recent visit to the Veteran's Hospital in Brockton and mentioned the attractive ceramics made by the veterans there as part of the therapy program. It was voted to send ten bags this year to the veterans at Christmas time.

An invitation was read inviting club members to attend the flower show at the Segregansett Agricultural School. A letter was also received from Mrs. Helen Lincoln of the Wareham Monday Club in which she offered transportation for anyone interested in attend-

MATTAPOISETT CENTER SCHOOL NEWS
November 11, 1956

Miss Cosman's second grade:
This week we did some finger painting (Bruce Daniels). We are learning about good manners (Terry Sylvia). We have some pictures about manners, too (Paul Eldridge). Mrs. Winslow gave us our first "excellent" in music (Susan Dexter). We are learning to write with smaller letters (Philip Ledoux). We all like to write with small letters (everyone).

In Mrs. Tuttle's social studies class, the children have been studying maps. They have made large maps of several areas in their own town, showing the streets, buildings, and landmarks.

Joseph Zychowicz made a travois and brought it to school to show the members of his reading group who have been reading stories of Plains Indians.

Thomas Dexter and William Darrah helped arrange the front border scene of Pilgrims going to church.

Paul Bieringer played two songs on his accordian during our last music period.

In science, Mrs. Tuttle's class is studying the many different ways animals escape from their enemies.

The spelling checkers in the room for this week are Sandra Farley, Christine Wenstrom, Phillip Breakell, Elizabeth Harris and Leonard Randall.

The day after Hallowe'en was a good day for writing thank you letters. In their language class the children wrote letters to some of the people who had been kind to them.

In Mrs. Ford's fourth grade Barbara Breakell, Richard Sharples, Betsy Joslin and Mary Lou Nunes had an "A" in the weekly spelling test.

Richard Sharples brought in a pomegranate. Each child had six seeds from it, just as Proserpina did, in our study of the Greek myth.

Mary Lou Nunes brought in a weather chart for October and November. The children have been amazed at its accuracy in predicting temparatures and precipitation.

Grade nine will present the play "Twixteen" on a date to be announced later. The members of the cast are: Edward Sylvia, Jr., Rodney; Richard Mandell, Pete; Jeffrey Lewis, Specks; Ernest Denault, Mr. Wills; Ruth Correia, Francis; Anne Ledoux, Mrs. Wills; Doreen Sylvia, Elizabeth; Joyce Harriman, Doris and Susan Avila, Gwendolyn.

The Center School orchestras have gotten off to a good start this year with over thirty members in both the junior orchestra and the senior orchestra. There are also about twenty pupils beginning some instruments who will be able to join the orchestras after Christmas.

Those in the Senior Orchestra are as follows: Carol Sherman (who is concert master), Albert Goodwin, Martha Aston and Kathy Schrage, violins; Doreen Sylvia, flute; Nancy Downing, cello; Bill Blasdale, trombone; Richard Sharples and Michael Renahan, clarinets; Jeffrey

HOME FROM EGYPT

Only a short time ago Mr. and Mrs. Roy Geggatt and family returned to Egypt after vacationing with relatives, Mr. and Mrs. George Bettencourt and Miss Mary Bettencourt of Rochester.

The unrest there was extreme but the actual conflict not to close to the point at which they reside. Tension, however, was extreme and immediate evacuation plans were in effect at all times.

Much anxiety recently was relieved to learn that the Geggatt family have arrived in the United States all well.

desolate and barren indeed. At 6 P.M. wind moderates and continues to pour down.

August 8th. Friday we have moderate Gales from N.E. to S.W. Spoke the Bark EUGENE of Stonington, Capt. Pendleton. I understood him to say he had 1000 barrels. The atmosphere was thick and foggy till noon when the wind began to blow strong from S.S.W. and the sun shone clear and bright. Then the fog rolled away on the breeze. We saw a mountain 2½ or 3 miles high in the form of a cone rearing its hoary head above the clouds. Sixty or 70 miles distant from us the sight was grand indeed. The gale increases and at 4 P.M. heave the ship to under a double reefed maintopsail. We saw 3 sail and several Sulphurbottoms.

August 9th. Saturday we have moderate gales all round the compass with fog and rain at intervals. At 4 P.M. there is strong Gales from S.W. We saw 5 sail and several Humpbacks and Sulphurbottoms today. At 7 this night we saw a carcass of a whale that appeared to have been skinned lately.

HARRIET HALL ENTERTAINS AT WOMAN'S CLUB

Members of the Mattapoisett Woman's Club were entertained at last Thursday's meeting by Miss Harriet Hall who spoke on famous personalities she has interviewed in the summer theatre. Among those she mentioned were Maurice Evans, Constance Bennet, Faye Emerson, Barbara BelGeddes, Francis Lederer, Helmut Dantine, Richard Arlen, John Newland, Gertrude Lawrence, Peggy Wood, Sylvia Sidney and Shelley Winters.

Miss Hall is heard over Radio Station WNBH on the program, "We the Women".

At the business meeting, conducted by Mrs. Howard H. Smith, the invocation was given by Mrs. Clifton B. Hatton. Mrs. Marshall Ross, delegate, reported on the Third District Conference held recently in Mansfield.

Mrs. H. Floyd Taylor of Rochester had a display of Thanksgiving and Christmas ideas and explained how to make them.

A Christmas Party will be held by the American Home Group on December 18th at the home of Mrs. Manuel Correia on Beacon Street.

The next meeting of the Literature-Drama group will be held at the home of Mrs. Harold Banks on Oakland Terrace on January 8th when books to be reviewed are "Tender Victory" and "The Long Walk".

Envelopes were distributed for contributions for the ditty bags to be sent to a veterans' hospital at Christmas.

ANNUAL CHRISTMAS FAIR AT CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

The Mattapoisett Congregational Church vestry will be the setting for the annual Christmas Fair, sponsored by the Women's Community Guild on Tuesday, November 27, between the hours of 10 A.M. and 4 P.M.

Here is the place to find a novel apron, good used jewelry, or that perfect dessert for the evening.

Table chairmen announced by the Fair chairman, Mrs. Frederic E. Reynard, are the following: Mrs. George Bradley, aprons and Christmas decorations; Mrs. Louis J. Roberts, candy; Mrs. Anthony J. Sylvia, food; Mrs. Marshall Ross, candles; Mrs. George Eldridge, plants; Mrs. Alan Perkins, jewelry; Miss Dorothy Fox, gifts; Mrs. Herbert Cray, grabs and Mrs. Merrill Walker, attic treasures.

MATTAPOISETT CENTER SCHOOL NEWS
November 19, 1956

Good Housekeepers in Miss Schofield's third grade last week were Larry Smith, Susan Underwood, Richard Morrell, Franklin Harriman, Susan Moore, Maureen Duff, Dennis Akin, Christopher Yard and Lawrence Smith

We made calendars for the month of November. We put our own pictures at the top.

Raymond England and Sheila Rusinoski brought in canoes they made out of birch bark.

As part of their science unit, the second graders in Mrs. Pallatroni's room have been learning about the concept of sound. They have conducted experiments listening to sound travel through media other than air. First a drum was used to demonstrate the vibration of sound. Then a string was tied to a spoon. As the spoon swung back and forth hitting the floor, the girls and boys placed the string to their ears and heard the sound which had traveled through the string.

Almost every death in fire can be avoided by an automatic danger signal. Artistic Enterprises can prove it.

Mrs. Tuttle's third grade children have been learning a group of Thanksgiving songs to sing in the Thanksgiving assembly.

Mrs. Tuttle has been reading to the class the story of the Pilgrims. In art class, the children made pictures of Pilgrim men and women.

The children of this class have been learning about syllables and accents in words.

Brenda Kinney is the monitor in charge of the coat closet.

In Mrs. Mulcahy's fourth grade, the children played a Thanksgiving puzzle game where they had to rearrange letters to form words about Thanksgiving. Deborah Pate and John DeMello rearranged all the words correctly.

Jean Lessard made a coal plant for us and we are waiting to see it grow.

We made Horns of Plenty filled with fruit and Diana Warburton's was especially real looking.

The geography classes of both eighth grade rooms have been going to the school library one day every week to work on farming notebooks. The children have chosen many interesting topics such as the cranberry industry, growing sugar beets, raising strawberries,

FRIDAY NIGHT BOWLING LEAGUE

The results of last Friday night's matches tightened up the league standing considerably. The first place Penguins lost three points to the Beetles and had their lead cut to one point. In fact there are only four points separating the first seven teams. With only five weeks left in the first half all teams are fighting for a first place finish in order to qualify for the roll-off at the end of the season.

Other resutls were: Lightnings 3, Weasels 0; Snipes 2, Townies 1; Brutal Beasts 2, Woodpussys 1. Marian Faria of the Woodpussys rolled 337 to establish a new season's high for women.

Recently for open house, the pupils of the eighth grade made papier-maché heads over balloons. Much to everyone's dismay, some were broken, but several will be remembered for a long time. Kathy Schrage's Eloise had red braids and freckles. Billy Blasdale's Herman had a fierce blue eye, red hair, and a black patch over the other eye. Jeanne Gingras' made an interesting head with blue hair and eyebrows. Everyone enjoyed this project.

This week in art class, Miss Robinson's class combined two media--crayon and powdered paint mixed in liquid starch. A design of fish and other underwater life was drawn and colored on white paper. Lastly, powdered paint mixed with liquid starch was applied for the water background. It was applied in a similar method to finger painting.

The ninth grade held a Harvest Dance on Friday evening, November 16th. The committees were: Edward Sylvia, chairman, Nancy Borges, Suzanne Lambert, Doreen Sylvia, Anne Ledoux and Walter Morgado, program; Peter Peck, chairman, Richard Coyle, tickets; Louise Valladoa, chairman, Mary Reed, Susan Hall and Judith Sylvia, refreshments; Lois Lessard, chairman, Suzanne Lambert, Susan Avila, Judith Sylvia and Sylvia Hales, decorations; Joyce Harriman, chairman, Anne Ledoux, Sylvia Hales and Susan Avila, publicity and ninth grade boys, cleanup. The patrons and patronesses for the dance were Mr. and Mrs. Lee Root, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kobak, Miss Betsy Robinson, Miss Sylvia Cosman, Mr. Leonel Neron and Miss Mary Tinkham.

The sale of ribbon candy, sponsored by "The Log", has ended very successfully. The money raised is sufficient to pay for the duplicating machine bought for the use of "The Log", the school newspaper. First prize for selling the most candy went to Nancy Borges who sold thirty-eight boxes, and the second prize went to Anne Ledoux who sold twenty-two boxes.

The honor roll for September and October at Center School is announced as follows: Harold Banks, Elaine Cayton, Alicia Crabbe, William Darrah, Maureen Duff, Sandra Farley, Peter Gast, Paul Kelley, Byron Lafferty, Marlene Lopes, Thomas Matthews, Craig Secia, Jenifer Stanley, Johanna Teachman, Marjorie Tuttle, Susan Underwood and Christopher Yard, grade 3; Catherine Bertram, Margaret Harrison, Carol Oliviera, Deborah Pate, Celia Purrington, Richard Sharples, Susan Sherman, Ricki Troy, Diana Warburton and Priscilla Yen, grade 4; Ann Apperson, Ann Figueiredo, Peter Foster, Susan Hawkins, Martha Heuberger, Carol Leonard, Arthur Marcoux, Susan Perry, Richard Ring, Dixon Yard and Victoria Yen, grade 5; Andrea Boardman, Janice Brown, Penelope Corey, Joseph Costa, Douglas Crabbe, Michael Ellis, Frederick Lambert, Peter Lawrence, Robert Moore, Stephen Power and Judith Young, grade 6; David Brown, Michael Fitzgerald, Judith Furnans, John Hall, Barbara Harriman, Ross Hopkins, Nancy Peck, Linda Price, Sally Anne Troy and Roberta Turner, grade 7; Martha Aston, Betsy Bushnell, Nancy Downing, Jeanne Gingras, Judith Hardy, Joyce Harrison, Ruth Heuberger, Beverly McLane, Linda Montgomery, Duncan Power, Kathie Schrage, Carol Sherman, David Silsby, Wayne Walega, Edward Walsh and William Young, grade 8; Judith DePina, Duncan Gifford, Joyce Harriman, Jeffrey Lewis, Richard Mandell, Shirley Price, Mary Reed, Doreen Sylvia, Beverly Turner and Judith Walega, grade 9.

VISITED SISTER

Mrs. Daniel E. Hartley of Rochester spent the day with her sister, Miss Ellen Lawrence of New Bedford on Monday.

JAPANESE BEETLE CONTROL

Senator Edward C. Stone, Presto Press subscriber and reader, has very kindly sent us this information to help people who are beset with the Japanese Beetle. This is from a Massachusetts County Extension Service Agriculture leaflet.

The Japanese Beetle is in Massachusetts to stay. Where the Japanese Beetle is just getting started as a serious pest it will continue to be worse for a few years. However if it was bad 5 to 15 years ago, but is not bad now then it is not likely to be serious again. There is nothing more within reason that Federal, State or local agencies can do to eradicate the Japanese Beetle.

There is much that the individual home owner can do to protect your property and neighborhood and here are some of the things to do.

1. Learn about the insect and its control from Cooperative Extension Service Leaflet No. 295, "The Japanese Beetle", available from your County Extension Service, or the University of Massachusetts at Amherst.

2. Grub-proof your essential turf (lawn) with dieldrin or chlordane. Get your neighbors to do the same. Take necessary steps to provide funds for grub-proofing publicly-owned turf areas that are essential to parks, recreational areas, public buildings, etc. Grub-proofing prevents Japanese beetle grub damage to grass roots. No beetles will come out of treated turf for 5 or more years if the job is done right.

The cause of fire is important. Yes! Instant knowledge of it imperative. Don't guess you're safe. Use Artistic Enterprises equipment Merlite

3. Spray or dust your plants as often as necessary with DDT, methoxychlor, or general-purpose mixtures; one application is rarely sufficient. Get your neighbors to do the same. See that local public agencies have funds to protect essential plants on public property being attacked by beetles.

4. Help bring about, earlier than it would occur naturally, a permanent decrease in Japanese beetle populations. By cooperating with garden clubs or other civic groups make sure some Milky Disease Spore Powder is placed on less essential turf that will never be treated with dieldrin or chlordane. This will establish a fatal, infectious disease in Japanese beetle grubs.

IN THE ROCHESTER LEAGUE AT BOWL-MOR ALLEYS

Robert Jefferson established a new high three of 382 to lead Dennis Mahoney & Sons to a 4 point win over Herb's T. V. Shop, whose high man was William Scott with 321.

Hartley's Garage took 4 from Gibbs Farm Dairy. In this match Edgar O'Neil, Jr's. 325 was high for the garage team and Art. Tripp's 304 was high for the dairy team.

Eddie Graham established a new high single of 157 and his total of 348 paced the Bettencourt's Market to a 3 point win over the Rounseville Saw Mill. Arnold Jefferson, Jr.'s 313 was high for Rounseville.

Led by Malcolm Cameron's 328 the Hartley Saw Mill won 3 from the Firemen, whose high man was William Martin with 343.

FROM THE LOG OF THE WHALESHIP CHARLESTON BY DANIEL A. BALDWIN ON THE VOYAGE FROM JUNE 28, 1844 to MARCH 9, 1847.

August 10th. Sunday we are enshrouded in a thick veil of fog till 8 A.M. The weather is then clear and unusually pleasant for this country. The wind continues S.W. fresh. We this day again have a view of Kamkatska's inhospitable Coast with its dark frowning Craigs (crags) and snow covered Summits. We again have a view of the Cone like mountain with its hoary head. It seemed to frown in Gloomy Grandeur on all around. Oh if I were a painter. We saw several S. and H whale but no sail. We seem to be alone in our glory.

August 11th. Monday we have fresh gales from S.E. to S. till noon, then sunshine and calm. The ship ran into the land when the wind left her. She was in 15 miles. We sounded and got 80 fathoms black sand with blue specks. The highest peak in the form of a cone bore N.W. 15 miles distant. We saw one sail.

August 12th. Tuesday we have fine weather all day with pleasant gales from all round the compass mostly from the westward. We saw 2 sail, one was a boiling. At ½ past 5 in the morning we saw a right whale. Lowered 2 boats and frightened him away. At 8 saw two more. Two boats lowered. Mr. Lyon got fast to one with his second iron. The first iron cut it off, and off went the whale. I never expect this ship will ever get full. There is a boat that has a singular talent for scaring whale. The more it frightens the greater opportunities there is given it. We shall stir them up well if we don't get any, that is something.

August 13. Wednesday there is light airs all around the compass. Saw 2 right whale. 2 boats chased them but did not get nigh them as they disappeared. Capt. Chester and Mr. Lyons lowered for a whale 2½ miles off. He proved to be a scrag whale. While chasing him Capt. Chester found a sunken ledge of rocks 8 miles from the shore and two from the ship. He came on board and got the ships head off shore as soon as possible. As it was nearly calm he sent me to see if I could find it and sound it. He said the water was not over 2½ fathoms on it. I pulled in and not coming across it I went near the shore 3 miles distant. There is 30 fathoms, ½ mile 17 fathoms. I tried for fish but got no bites. There was a beautiful beach of black sand with some level land and a plenty of wood and fresh water. The country wore a singular appearance. It was as green as the greenest verdure could make it striped with snowbanks that fall so deep in the winter that they don't melt away in the summer. Here I saw at one glance summer and winter side by side. Coarse grass grows here in abundance and near by forests of large trees. Solitude reigns here undisturbed save by the wild beasts. There was plenty of humpbacks in shore but no right whale. In coming off to the Ship at night I saw 2 Humpback whales beset by a dozen killers. They were as badly frightened as they could be.

August 14th. Thursday we have moderate gales from S.S.W. with thick fog the most of the day. It is clear in the morning till 8, then it lights up from 3-to 6 P.M. Saw 4 sail but no right whale. The ship is running from the land all day.

August 15th, Friday. The first part of the day moderate gales from S.E. The latter part they blow strong. There is fog, mist and rain all day. At 5 P.M. we saw a ship to windward. She ran down and proved to be the WISCASSET of Sag Harbor. Capt. Chester and Mr. Comstock went on board. While there a whale came up to Leeward of her. Mr. Comstock struck him. We killed him and he sunk. Three Boats was fast. They lost some line.

BRISTOL COUNTY DOG CLUB AT JUVENILE GRANGE MEETING

A very interested group of guests and members of the Mattapoisett Juvenile Grange met in the Mattapoisett Grange Hall Friday, November 23rd, when the Exhibition Team of the Bristol County Dog Training Club went through their paces with their dogs.

Mr. Robert Breneke, who was introduced by the lecturer, Ann Radcliffe, spoke on the different species of dogs shown, their origin and breed. Each handler was introduced with his or her dog. Showing dogs were Miss Judy Zaretto with her miniature poodle, Jackie; Mr. Antone Leite with his schnauzer, Rene; Mrs. Mary Benoit with her weimiramer, Storm; Miss Jelda Brown with her poodle, Jacques; Mr. Billy Constant with his collie, Tag; Miss Joyce Gordon with her English Shepherd, Fury; Mr. John Zaretto with his poodle, Peppie; Mr. Gordon Sylvia with his doberman pincer, Red; Miss Barbara Ledoux with her collie, Tracy and Mr. Robert Breneke with his sckipperke, Skip.

After the exhibition Mr. Breneke answered many questions pertaining to the care, feeding and training of dogs. Dog training classes are held every Friday night at the Navy Hall in New Bedford, sponsored by the Bristol County Dog Training Club.

Speaking briefly were Mrs. Mildred LeBaron, State Juvenile Superintendent, and Mr. Otto Kellish, Master of Mattapoisett Grange. Clifton Cray gave a very interesting talk on the Flower Show at Bristol County Agricultural School. "Butch" Morgan told about the good sledding in Maine.

Members are to bring in their articles for the Christmas basket at the next meeting,

CANVAS TO AID RETARDED CHILDREN

Mrs. Clifford I. Tripp, Jr. of Main Street, Mattapoisett and a member of the Mattapoisett Congregational Church Couples Club has been appointed local chairman of the house to house canvas for the Greater New Bedford Chapter for Retarded Children, it was announced by Mr. Samuel and Attorney Rosalind Brooker, chairman of the fund raising campaign for that organization.

The Greater New Bedford Chapter for Retarded Children is a non-profit organization comprising parents and friends of retarded children. Its first aim to aid retarded children to receive some degree of education and training which cannot be furnished by the schools.

Some of the projects which this group has sponsored have been nursery classes at the Donald Duck Nursery in Fairhaven; Recreation Center at the Moose Hall; the furnishing of educational toys to the special classes for retarded children in the New Bedford school system.

The ultimate goal for this group is the organization of more special classes in cooperation with school officials in the towns of the greater New Bedford area.

George S. White of Baptist Street has been a member of the Board of Directors for the past year.

Captains for the different areas are Mrs.

MATTAPOISETT CENTER SCHOOL NEWS

November 26, 1956

In Mrs. Martin's first grade, David Helfand brought in a large box of plaster scraps for the class to use in art class.

We drew a large Thanksgiving mural in our room.

We have a riddle on our bulletin board about a turkey. We can read it. Mrs. Martin drew the outline of a huge turkey on the board. Many of us colored it in with colored chalk.

Each morning we are trying to think of one thing we are most thankful for. Then we say a little silent prayer thanking God especially for that thing. So far, we have thought of flowers, clothes, our hearts and the sun. We shall continue in this manner through the year to remind us that we can be thankful at all times of the year.

Jeffrey Chase and Penny Denham brought in candles made of turkey to decorate our room for Thanksgiving. We learned some songs to sing at the Thanksgiving assembly. We also know the first verse of America and will begin soon to learn the last verse.

Helpers for our room last week were Ronald Andrews, Carolyn Lewis, Michael Collyer, Anne Silsby, Guy Verfaille, Douglas Turner and Susan Brule.

Charles King has found his dog. We are all happy for him.

Mrs. Martin read us stories which Luisann Flanders and Carol Mansfield brought in last week.

We saw a movie on safety Monday. It was called, "Peter and the Whefflehound". We talked about it afterward.

In Mrs. Pallatroni's second grade, helpers for the week were Roxanne Wood and Carolyn DeCosta.

Miss Cosman's second grade writes its own news once more---

Thanksgiving will soon be here--Sharon Rusinoski; This week we drew turkeys for Thanksgiving--Gail Norris; We pasted feathers on the turkeys--Jean Benjamin; We learned about corn--Terry Sylvia; and Pilgrims, too--Marianne Gingras; We learned many Thanksgiving songs--Barbara Hardy which we will sing in assembly; We have the days of the week around the room--Robert Souza; and we are learning about the months--Thomas Brownell; We are learning about money, too, but that isn't so easy--Nancy Monteiro; We were very glad to have so many parents come to Parents' Day --All Watercolor painting by D. Jason of the bark, Sunbeam, 255.31 tons; length 106.4', beam 27.3', depth 1512, built in 1856 in Mattapoisett, Mass. This was a common sight in whaling days. The Sunbeam is hove over with her keel out as workmen replace her copper sheathing. You will notice the new copper area being placed over the recaulked bottom. This ship was built 100 years ago this year almost coinciding with Mattapoisett's anniversary.

In answer to many requests we have asked the Centennial Committee for news as to their plans, but apparently they have nothing to report as yet. We are eager to pass along to you any news that we receive of the coming celebration.

THE REV. DONALD D. There are many names for whom no addresses are available.

MAIL EARLY FOR CHRISTMAS

Postmaster Alice M. Corey said that while the Post Office still has a tremendous job ahead of it, efforts are being re-doubled to deliver all mail on time and in good condition by Christmas Eve. She points out that by taking a little extra care with your Christmas mailings now, you'll avoid disappointing friends and loved ones at Christmas time.

She asks for your special cooperation to be sure that your return address and the recipients address is plainly typed or written on all labels and Christmas cards. Use zone numbers, and it's a good idea to include an extra label inside your packages. Parcel Post size and weight limitations vary according to destination. Ask about them when you go to the Post Office to buy stamps.

Speaking about stamps, the Postmaster said, "Use three cent postage on all your Christmas cards. This way they will be delivered promptly, and forwarded or returned, if necessary, providing you include your name and address on your Christmas card envelopes." First-

Class postage on your Christmas cards enables you to include handwritten messages, thus making your Christmas greetings more personal. By including your name and address on each Christmas card envelope, both you and your friends can keep your mailing lists up-to-date.

The Postmaster urges that you mail all of your out-of-town Christmas cards and packages immediately, and certainly not later than December 10th. Christmas mail for local addresses should be started on its way at least a week before Christmas.

You can do both yourself and the Post Office a real favor by securing free labels at the Post Office which read "ALL FOR OUT OF TOWN DELIVERY" and "ALL FOR LOCAL DELIVERY". Place these labels on bundles of cards for local addresses and on those for out-of-town destinations.

Try to mail your out-of-town Christmas cards several days in advance of those for local delivery, and those for nearby points should all be mailed by at least a week before Christmas.

The cooperation of all business firms in postponing the mailing of circulars and catalogs until after December 25th is requested.

The Postmaster expressed his thanks for the excellent response to his "Mail Early" appeals to date, but warns, that only by stepping up all mailing of Christmas packages and cards immediately, can the record mail load by processed and delivered on time.

Stephen Dexter brought in a rubber duck that was made there.

Today we made snowmen out of white paper to put in Mrs. Walker's art display. We are beginning to plan decorations for our room for Christmas.

Mrs. Morgan's first grade made snowmen for the display case.

Helpers for last week were Joan Darrah, Allen Vaughan, Shirley Breakell, David Chase, Mark Chase, Brenda Lopes and David Bradley.

In Mrs. Pallatroni's second grade this past week, the boys and girls read about and discussed the concept of friction. They also discussed and then listed the many ways in which electricity works for us.

Being displayed in the room are a nativity scene brought in by George White, and a large spray of holly which Dolores Barboza brought in.

The children are watching with interest the growth of leaves on a sweet potato in water. The sweet potato was brought in by William Milne.

Penelope Corey has left Mr. Kennedy's class for Norfolk, Virginia, where her father has been stationed. She has promised to write to the class of her experiences.

tion of the PTA enthusiastically enough so as to have him become an active member? Mrs. Mayers said that most non-members believe that the organization is primarily a social gathering. At the conclusion she stressed that members must show that the PTA is an organization for adult education for parents, teachers and adults in general as it relates the children and their needs.

Mrs. Albert Harris Heineck, past Regional Vice-President, conducted a question and answer period. Mrs. Heineck was awarded the MCPT State Life Membership during the past fiscal year in appreciation for her contribution to the welfare of all children.

Mr. Warren Arnold thanked the PTA officers and members who came and reminded the members of the Mid-Winter Conference at the Hotel Statler in Boston on January 26, 1957.

Mrs. George M. Davis and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Chamberlain represented the Rochester PTA at the District Conference at Rehoboth.

August 26th, Tuesday. This morning our French friend is still in sight. The wind is light from N.E. I this day write a letter to my wife. At 3 P.M. I go with Capt. C. onboard the NILE. He takes our letters to Lahina. We staid onboard till half past 7. We took tea and had fresh beef soup with carrots, potatoes that was 2 years old. It was as good as soup just made. All the French whalers that I have seen are fine vessels.

August 27th. Wednesday we have light airs from the Northward with rain, fog and mist. There is a heavy swell running from the southward and westward and the barometer is down down.

August 28th. Thursday begins light airs from the west. Fog comes in thick about noon. It clears with a calm and a heavy sea that is shaking our sails to pieces. Nothing in sight.

August 29th. Friday the wind blows fresh from N. by W. Course S.E. by E. Cloudy and some fog. The ship is running like a frightened fawn with topmast and topgallant studdingsails. The watch employed knotting rope yarns. It is a sad feeling at my time of Life to be where the feelings are anxious for time to pass away but such are mine at present.

Mr. Kennedy's grade six ended their work on the election by conducting an election of all 6th, 7th, 8th and 9th grade students, as well as the faculty. Each class had represntatives of Mr. Kennedy's room conducting their important part in the election.

The ballot was exactly like the real ballot except that it was typed and mimeographed by Mr. Kennedy.

Results of the election are posted on the bulletin board at the school with both school and state and national totals.

The display cast was kept up the day after election as results came in. The 1956 electoral map of Mr. Kennedy's grade was colored red and blue for states which President Eisenhower and Mr. Stevenson won, and was compared with the 1952 electoral map.

The House of Representatives' chart was completed and it was several days before the Senate chart was completed and the winning man's name entered because of the closeness of the contests.

The Gubernatorial Chart was worked on and winners entered when the results were known.

The unit on the election encompassed many stages, with discussion of issues, discussion on qualifications of candidates, knowledge of how to vote and how an election is conducted. The make-up of the U. S. Senate and the U. S. House of Representatives was also discussed along with certain important Senators.

A Hobby Club has been formed in Mr. Kennedy's room in conjunction with the study of a Language Unit on procedures of club meetings and elections. The first meeting was held on November 19, 1956. Officers elected for the club were as follows: Joseph Costa, president; David Smith, vice-president; Kathleen Sylvia, secretary and Janice Brown, reporter.

It was first decided and voted upon what type of club would be desired, and after the election, a meeting was held. Different hobbies were discussed, and it was voted to have each member of the club bring in his hobby for one week's display in Mr. Kennedy's room. Every member of the class is a member of the

September - Bound North Pacific to New Zealand

September 1st. Monday the wind is more moderate from the same quarter. We have gained a more genial clime. The weather is quite pleasant and warm. We this day fit new jib guys. At the end of this day the wind veers round east. We haul in studdingsails and take a porpoise.

September 2nd. Tuesday begins with a fresh gale from East. The weather is pleasant and warm. Light airs in the afternoon.

September 5th. Friday there is light airs all round the compass. The sun shines bright. The heat begins to be oppressive. The sea is as smooth as the most placid lake. We this day finish cleaning bone. At 4 P.M. we send up the foretopgallant mast. Some of our fellows have a swim this afternoon.

September 6th. Saturday we have light winds all round the compass. The weather is verry pleasant. We send up our fore topgallant yard and break out between decks to make room for bone. We caught several skipjacks and albacores which makes us well off for fresh fish.

September 7th. Sunday the wind is light from East to S.E. Atmosphere rather damp. A plenty of fish about. I get 6 yards of blue dungaree of Capt. Chester.

jects on farming all over the world. Once a week we go into the school library as a class and get extra information concerning our geography from the many good books there. We are also reading "Evangeline", which was written by Henry Wadsworth Longfellow, in our English classes.

Future plans are to have discussions and group meetings about hobbies of interest to all.

Class members are still hearing from foreign countries to which they wrote for free materials in September. Much material was received, and a great deal sent was stored away until the class takes up that particular country in geography.

Free films have been sent for to the Embassies of Pakistan and New Zealand. Many students are writing away for their own free materials for their own use.

Catherine Nunes and Stephen Cobb have been appointed as class monitors of the patrol for a month.

Inclement weather almost postponed Mr. Kobak's seventh grade hayride on November 17th. The class did go, however. The horse and wagon was replaced by a slower means of transportation, although a comfortable one. It was Mr. Kobak's '48 Chevrolet. The class, twenty-eight strong, was transported to the boy scout camp on North Street in Rochester. Volley ball, dodge ball and softball were the main games played. It was a cold, damp day but the games kept all of us quite warm. We all returned home between three and four in the afternoon just before the downpour. Everyone had a good time and no one caught a cold. We were all back in school the following Monday.

EXPANDED CHRISTMAS DISPLAYS IN '56

The interest in Christmas lighting displays expressed last year and the satisfaction gained by the displayers, prompts the Mattapoisett Improvement Association with Leonard A. Burnham as chairman to again offer awards this year. The same class divisions - homes, business, industrial and civic will be awarded plaques in appreciation of their interests in making the town a brighter place. The judging will be by a committee and will be for originality, beauty, spiritual creativeness and effort expressed. Simplicity could easily be the keynote of your individual expression that could make you a winner.

Show your pride in the town and your individual feeling of Christmas by lighting a candle in your window, making a setting on your lawn, decorating the house or store, or whatever suits you, whether you try for a prize or not.

Like the old saying "If you build a better mouse trap folks will beat a path to your door". The committee will try to cover every inch of the town to single you out and judge your display. They would, however, appreciate it if you would drop a card and let them know you would like to be judged. Mail it to L.A. Burnham of Burnham Nurseries, chairman, and give him your name and address. He will do the rest. Make everybody's Christmas brighter by getting behind this decorating idea.

REV. PHILLIPS SPEAKS AT ROCHESTER WOMAN'S CLUB

Members of the Rochester Woman's Club heard a most interesting talk by Rev. Vernon Lee Phillips, new pastor of the First Congregational Church of Rochester on the "Religious Side of Christmas". He urged that we emphasize the spirit of Christmas and think a bit more about the true meaning of that special day instead of giving so much thought to the material side as we are apt to do when caught up in the hustle and bustle of preparation for the holidays. He said that as Christmas seems to many of us to become more and more commercialized, it would be well to stop just a moment now and then to remember Whose birthday it is on December 25th.

Rev. Phillips took up his new position as pastor of the Rochester church in September. He and his family reside in Fall River. Mrs. Phillips, a very charming person and a school teacher, accompanied her husband.

The annual Christmas party for the children will be held on Tuesday, December 18, at 3:00 P.M., at the clubhouse on Marion Road. Reservations may be made by calling Mrs. Henry Hartley, Rockwell 3-5347, and stating the name and age of the child who will attend. All children are welcome. There will be games and refreshments and, of course, Santa!

Christmas ribbon candy is now being sold and Mrs. Frank Howland is taking order. This is the very thin delicious kind. The proceeds from the sale of this candy will help toward the children's Christmas Party.

Donations were voted for the Plymouth County Health Association for tuberculosis, Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children and to a Red Cross appeal for the Hungarian Re-

A report was given by Miss Katherine Hartley with regard to prices, etc., for the installation of a new electric pump for the clubhouse. Miss Hartley and Mrs. David Fearing were appointed at the November meeting to look into the matter. It was voted that the club purchase the pump recommended.

It was announced that Mrs. Harry Coggeshall of Marion, chairman of the Veterans' Committee, had made the veterans' bags and will fill and send them shortly. Proceeds from the next whist party on Tuesday, December 11, will be used to buy the articles to fill the bags.

A pleasant social hour followed and refreshments were served by Mrs. Abraham Jackson and Mrs. Ward Benner, hostesses for the evening.

BOY SCOUTS MEET

The Boy Scout Troop 30 met in the Rochester Woman's clubhouse at 6:30 Friday night, December 7th for their regular meeting.

PROPOSED RESTRICTION DISCUSSED AT PUBLIC HEARING IN MATTAPOISETT

An open hearing was held on Monday, December 3rd at the Mattapoisett Town Hall to bring a proposed by-law for zoning restrictions on business and on new home building into public view before it is introduced into the warrant for consideration at the town meeting. The chairman of the meeting Richard Chase invited discussion and constructive suggestions from the voters present.

Mr. Chase, planning board chairman, explained that Mattapoisett is primarily a residential town. Business, he said, has been tending to locate on Route 6 and for that reason it was decided that area should be a good business district. Businesses not located on Route 6 which is at present in the majority would be allowed to continue providing that they could do so without expanding. A business establishment could be sold to another business even in this proposed residentil district providing that the new business was no more objectionable than the business moving out.

Section II Business District Route 6

Route 6 to the Marion line, however, no survey has been made to determine that the land there is for sale.

2. Concern was expressed that the proposed business district might become an eyesore and bad traffic hazard, providing land could be found for sale.

3. It was brought out that Mattapoisett's main small industry now located in an attractive building and employing Mattapoisett people was started in a garage, which would not be allowed under the proposed restrictions.

4. A small business man now starting a business requiring a 10 year program of expansion in an area far out on North St., expressed his deep concern that his property would be designated as residential in the proposed restrictions and would make it impossible to carry out any program on his own land.

Section III Use of Land

Refer #3 under (B)

1. A Mattapoisett resident living out near the Rochester area, in farm country, explained that he liked to keep a pig or two and that he noticed that since his area, as well as all other farm area in Mattapoisett, was classed as residential that keeping a pig would be forbidden under the proposed restrictions.

This stand was defended by another gentleman who expressed the opinion that pigs are a cleaner animal than the cow.

Section IV Lot sizes

Section A states that no building should be erected or enlarged unless it is done so with no part of it nearer than 15 ft of the land of another owner.

1. It was questioned whether it was wise to restrict business buildings to a distance 30 feet apart both from the standpoint of shoppers' convenience and due to the fact that any land in a business area brings a premium price and cannot usually be wasted.

Section A also prohibits lots of less that 90 ft frontage in residential areas and 100 ft depth. Structures would be compelled to have 15 ft on both sides and to the back and be set back 20 feet from the street.

1. A gentleman rose to suggest that although a 90 x 100 ft minimum lot is most desired and that an even bigger lot would be also, that the cost of land must enter into consideration. He thought that perhaps the new home builder bought what land he could afford and needed.

(It might be worthy of some thought to consider whether or not all land can be divided into lots of this dimension. Sometimes the contours of the land and natural obstacles such as creeks, cliffs, hills, stands of woodland etc. determine the size and particularly the shape of a house lot. A house lot can be considerably less than 90 ft frontage and still be desirable for a different style house such as ranch type or smaller Cape Cod.)

2. Section (A) which does not propose to compel a 90 ft frontage on land duly recorded in the Plymouth County Registry of Deeds providing it is so registered before the by-law would become law if so voted by the Town Meeting.

1. It was noted that many parcels of land might be owned but not registered by plan in this manner.

2. A question was raised as to the desireability of a house built on a 43 ft lot and forced to observed the 15 ft restrictions on both sides to the lot line. It was questioned that a home 13 ft wide would be desireable to a neighborhood.

gradual progress of the past 100 years. He said that a process of change has erased many eyesores along the wharf and through the town. It has been done naturally by individuals acting not only as good neighbors but in their own interests as well as they improve their property to increase its value. The town has become more and more attractive to people from the city, he said, and it is proved by the tremendous growth of the town recently as people move here to live.

A board of health official made it plain, in a brief statement, that laws in effect today will stop an objectionable business from starting operation at will.

There were many more well thought out and very contructive suggestions which prove conclusively the value of public opinion, as expressed in public hearings.

Attorney Charles A. Adams of New Bedford, Mass., a summer resident of Mattapoisett Neck, spoke in support of the proposed zoning restrictions and answered questions on legal points. He told how 20 interested landowners had met with the Planning Board in planning the proposed by-law. He explained that the New Bedford zoning and building restrictions, which over the years have developed into a maze of tremendous proportions was used simply as a starting point in developing this greatly simplified plan.

A vote was taken to determine how many present favored presenting the present plan to the voters. Thirty-six voted approval. A vote was taken to determine how many of the approximate 150 present were interested in some form of zoning and a majority were in favor. Suggestions were written down to be discussed at the Planning Board regular meeting scheduled for this Tuesday, the 11th.

MATTAPOISETT CENTER SCHOOL NEWS
December 10, 1956

The children in Mrs. Morgan's first grade visited Mr. Hagen's toy factory. They enjoyed it very much.

Mrs. Morgan's children have also made candles and put them in their windows. They hope the people going by the school will enjoy them, also. A Christmas tree has been made by them from paper chains and put on the door.

In Mrs. Pallatroni's second grade, the boys and girls have been practicing for a Christmas program which they hope to put on; it is "The Shoemaker and the Elves".

Decorations have been put up in the front of the room as part of the seasonal activities.

Helpers for this week were Patty Moss, Muriel Costa, Valerie Randall, Leon Lewis, Paul Moore, Billy Egan and Donna Seeley.

We have almost finished our science unit. This week we read about and discussed how wind and water can work to both our advantage and disadvantage.

In Miss Schofield's third grade, stories were written about "Getting Ready for Christmas". Arnold Breakell's story was the best. It is going to be printed in the Christmas issue of the school paper, "The Log".

Each of us is making an interesting Indian calendar. It is quite difficult.

Everyone is helping to decorate the room for Christmas.

We talked about the people of Hungary and each of us is going to try to do something for them.

In science, we are making an interesting study of magnets. Dennis Akin, William Arral and James Humphrey brought in magnets. Susan Underwood and Alicia Crabbe brought in compasses.

CHRISTMAS PROGRAM AT WOMAN'S CLUB MEETING

A Christmas program, arranged by the Literature-Drama group, will be held at the meeting of the Mattapoisett Woman's Club this Thursday afternoon, December 20, at 2:30 in the vestry of the Congregational Church. Mrs. Thomas Routhier, chairman of the group will give a Christmas reading. Carols will be sung, led by the Choral Group. Mrs. Howard H. Smith will conduct the business meeting. Hostess at the social hour will be Mrs. George Bradley.

CHRISTMAS DISPLAYS FOR '56

The town of Mattapoisett this year seems to have an increasing interest in their Xmas displays.

Already decorations are being displayed in different parts of town and the committee can readily see the competition is going to be keen.

We are fortunate and pleased to have as judges, Mr. Donald C. Jason, co-publisher of the Presto Press, and an artist in his own right, and Miss Louise Phelan, are instructor in the New Bedford Schools.

Please forward cards to the committee if you wish to have your display judged for an award.

Let's make 1956 one of the best efforts of the people of Mattapoisett towards making the town say to the world Merry Xmas.

The committee, Len Burnham at 8-3351 and Art Smith at 8-2010.

FIRE SAFE CHRISTMAS

In 1955 twenty-three persons were killed by fire, the day before Xmas. Thirteen of them were children.

The Mattapoisett fire department offers the following suggestions as a safety measure to assure you of a "safe" and Merry Christmas.

I. Choose a small tree.
II. Don't set it up until a few days before Christmas.
III. Have it sprayed with fire-resistant chemicals. (Your fire dept. will do this for you free).
IV. Place it in the coolest part of the house, away from fireplaces and radiators. Don't let it block an exit.
V. Never use untreated cotton or untreated paper for decorations.
VI. Do not put electric trains under your tree.
VII. Use only electric lights, never candles and see that the wires are not frayed.
VIII. Provide a switch some distance from the tree to turn lights off and on.
IX. Throw away all gift wrappings as soon as packages are opened.
X. Do not leave the lights on when no one is home.
XI. If needles near lights turn brown, move the lights.
XII. When needles start to fall, discard your tree.

We wish you a "Merry""Fire Safe" Christmas.

IN THE ROCHESTER LEAGUE AT BOWL-MOR ALLEYS

Although Earle Phillips' 371 was high for the night, his team, the Rounseville Saw Mill, dropped 4 to the Firemen, whose high man was Pardon Gibbs with 356.

Gibb's Farm Dairy (Art Tripp 322) took 4 from Herb's T. V. Shop (Arthur Bassett Jr. 299).

Hartley's Garage (Eddie Swift 322) took 3 from Dennis Mahoney & Sons.

Irving Ellis' 335 led the Hartley Saw Mill to a 4 point win over Bettencourt's Market. Richard Nolan's 322 was high for Bettencourts.

FRIDAY NIGHT BOWLING LEAGUE

An exciting match is in the offing for next week when the first half championship will be decided. Both the Penguins and the Snipes lost two points to their respective opponents but remained tied for the league lead. By coincidence the schedule brings these two teams together on the last night of the first half. The winner will rolloff against the second half champion at the end of the season for the league championship.

For the second consecutive week Tony Pelson of the Townies was high bowler for the night. His total of 335 included a single of 134. For the women Polly Renahan had high three with 304 while Hazel Sylvia rolled high single with a string of 117.

Results: Lightnings 2, Snipes 1; Brutal Beasts 2, Penguins 1; Woodpussys 2, Beetles 1; Townies 2, Weasels 1.

WHEN YOU GET AS OLD AS I
by Murray R. Tuttle

When you get as old as I,
You'll think of things you
Should have done, yet passed them by,
When you get as old as me,
Your eyes will open and you will see
The way that you could have spent the day
And made it pleasant for all to see.

When you get as old as I,
You'll see the things that you passed by
Where you could have helped a lot
Those whose troubles never stop.

When you get as old as me,
You'll wonder you did not see
The sign of sorrow, a wrinkled brow
On old folks' faces then as now.

When you get as old as I,
You'll give a sigh and wonder why
You'd fail to note on each one's face
There was something out of place.
A something left undone or said
Before they wandered off to bed.

And when you get so old and gray,
You'll see the times you missed to pray
To Him who gave you life to live,
That you of help might to others give.

So when you get as old as me,
You'll think of things you could have done
To help mankind 'ere your setting sun
Has slid from view and your night's begun.

Christmas Day comes as in olden times
And bells are rung, sending forth their chimes,
Proclaiming in song to one and all
Christ came to save, even those who fall,
And when you get as old as me,
You'll know that Christ came for all to see.

Merry Christmas to one and all.

Helpers for Mrs. Martin's first grade last week were Jeffrey Chase, Susan Reynard, Paula Mogilnicki, Faith Perkins, David Games, Douglas Jenney and Stanley Bowman.

We are busy making toys and articles for the Hungarian refugees.

Our room has made sheep and shepherds and trees to go with a creche scene that we have on our big table. David Helfand and his father made a very large mailbox for us for our Christmas cards.

Mrs. Martin has read us two stories about Rudolf, the Red-nosed Reindeer.

We have a different piano in our room. It sounds so much better. Ronald Andrews says that the piano "sings to us"!

We have a large toyshop window on two chalkboards. We have drawn toys to put in it.

Alice Valley is going to bring us our Christmas tree. David Helfand will bring in holly. We have all exchanged names for 25¢ gifts for Kathie Schrage, Joyce Harrison, Rachel Davis, Susan Burnham, Ruth Vermilya and Joan Macedo are in charge of decorating Miss Robinson's room for Christmas. They are using the theme of carolers and one of them has fur mittens. Poinsettias and snow flakes carry out the window theme in the remainder of the room. Large white letters on a red background spell out Christmas Greetings over the blackboard.

Billy Dexter is in charge of the Christmas tree and each person is bringing or constructing decorations for it. We are collecting lots of toys, and Kathie Schrage made an "Ollie" puppet out of a sock, and a yarn doll. Other students are refinishing dolls and toys.

NARROW GAUGE RAILROAD DELIGHTS
CHILDREN AND ADULTS

Many of you have been to Carver at some recent time and have ridden on the narrow gauge Edaville R. R. The small train with its beautifully restored Early American cars is a delight to children and adults alike as it puffs its way through the cranberry bogs. Even before the line was finished people flocked for a ride on this unique railroad line which is a testimony to the affection that people have for the vanishing "Iron Horse". Now we find that cars from every state in the U. S. are parked at Edaville in what might be the last stand of the steam railway. At this time of the year it is particularly more crowded as people travel there to view and enjoy the beautiful Christmas display of lights and scenery.

The steam locomotive linking the vast area of the country is responsible, more than any other single factor, in making the expansion of our United States possible. This little R. R. at Carver started a train of thought which led us to look up the beginning of it all and this is what we found.

The "Tom Thumb" was built in 1829. It was constructed on an original principle by Peter Cooper of New York and was the first steam locomotive built in the United States. By all of our standards the "Tom Thumb" was a ridiculous appearing affair. You have seen the small hand cars used by R. R. workmen. The little engine looked like one of those hand cars with a parlor stove setting upright in the center. The important thing was that it worked, did a job, and was the beginning of a fantastically large industry. On August 28, 1830 a trip was made on new tracks laid by the Baltimore and Ohio R. R. between Baltimore and Ellicott's Mills. Some of you have ridden on the open cars at Edaville and in this test of 1830 a very similar open car was used attached to the "Tom Thumb". It was filled with courageous friends of the inventor and with directors of the B & O and was the first steam R. R. trip in America. Here is what happened in the words of one of the passengers.

"The trip was most interesting. The curves were passed without difficulty, at a speed of 15 miles per hour. The grades were ascended with comparative ease. The day was fine, the company in the highest spirits, and some excited gentlemen of the party pulled out notebooks, and when at the highest speed, which was 18 miles per hour, wrote their names and some connected sentences to prove that even at that great velocity it was possible to do so. "The return trip from the Mills, a distance of 13 miles, was made in 57 minutes."

This was in the summer of 1830, but the triumph of this Tom Thumb engine was not altogether without a drawback. The great Stage proprietors of the day were Stockton and Stocks; and on that occasion a gallant gray, of great beauty and power, was driven by them from town, attached to another car on the south track - for the company had begun by making two tracks to the Mills - and met the engine at the Relay House on the way back. From this point it was determined to have a race home; and the start being even away went horse and engine, the snort of one and the puff of the other keeping time and time.

"At first the gray had the best of it, for his power would be applied to the greatest advantage on the instant, while the engine had to wait until the rotation of the wheels set the blower to work. The horse was perhaps a quarter mile ahead, when the safety valve of the engine lifted, and the thin blue vapor issuing from it showed an excess of steam. The blower whistled, the steam blew off in vapory clouds, the pace increased, the passengers shouted, the engine gained on the horse and soon it lapped him. The lash was plied - the race was neck and neck, nose and nose. Then the engine passed the horse and a great hurrah hailed the victory. But it was not repeated; for just at this time when the gray master was about giving up, the band which drove the pulley which moved the blower, slipped from the drum. The safety valve ceased to scream, and the engine for want of breath, began to wheeze and pant."

Peter Cooper who was acting as his own engineer and fireman tried desperately to replace the belt cutting his hands in his haste but it was too late, the horse passed the train. Finally the belt replaced, the steam up again, and Mr. Cooper throwing in soft wood for fast heat the Tom Thumb raced in vain to overtake the horse but the gray was the winner. What happened when the train pulled in can well be imagined. Perhaps it was simple justice - this last victory of the horse over steam power.

So now the diesel replaces the steam locomotive but maybe not for long. Who can tell in our fast changing age what may happen. Atomic power supplying unlimited heat may bring back a new age of steam power. In the meantime the vanishing, puffing, plowing, cinder belching steam locomotive thrills and fascinates the young and young in heart.

Sept. 16th. Tuesday the wind is not so fresh from E. by N. Course S.S.E. We continue to repair sails. We bend our new mizzen topsail made out of an old one. This day the carpenter begins a new flying jibboom. He makes it out of an old jibboom. Dist. sailed 126 miles.

Wednesday the trades blow not very fresh from E.N.E. We do various jobs about the rigging today and plice the flying jibboom by serving it with an iron hook. We this day cross the second Meridian and arrive in West Longitude in consequence of which we go one day back in our reckoning. We cross the Northern tropic this day and enter the torrid zone. Dist. sailed this day 115 miles.

Sept. 17th. Thursday the trades are moderate from E.N.E. We repair sails and paint our flying jib boom. We this day alter our log line. It gives the ship too much distance.

Sept. 18th. Friday the trades blow a little stronger. We get out our flying jibboom this day and mend and cut old sails. This morning at half past 3 Mr. Lyons went forward. One of the men, Thomas Collins by name, lay stretched out his legs in the Gangway. Mr. Lyons gave his feet a shove and ordered him to take them out of the way. He got up, damned Mr. Lyons. Mr. Lyons gave him a shove. Then he struck him in return over the eye with his fist and cut a gash 1½ inches long which appears to be deep. Mr. Lyons then ordered him aft. He made some resistance. Mr. Lyons called to me. I sat on the rail in the waist. We took him aft, tied his hands behind him, put him in the round house, kept him there till 7 bells. After he had eat breakfast Cap. Chester gave him 2 doz. with 9 thread rigging.

Sept. 19th, Friday. This day I alter the day of the week to correspond with the day of the month. We continue to repair sails and other little jobs. The trades are the same as usual.

Sept. 20th. Saturday the trades are very unsteady. They are lulls and squalls and veer from E by S to E & NE. We continue to repair and alter old sails. Be it remembered my time is Civil, not Nautical.

Sept. 21st. Sunday the winds are variable. At 4 P.M. the ship heads SW by S. Cloudy and barometer depressed. This day the Capt takes a boat steerer that lives in the cabin out of the starboard watch and puts him into the Larboard to please Mr. Comstock. Blessed are the humble, they are not of much consequence and require but little convenience.

East and there abouts with dark clouds hovering about the horizon. In the afternoon the wind goes all about the compass and back into the old quarter. We tack ship twice today.

Sept. 23rd. Tuesday, the first part of the day the wind is light as usual. In the afternoon there is fair so that we steer S.E. by E. Five knots is the ship's progress. We do various light jobs today.

Sept. 24th. Wednesday the trades are from E to E.N.E. and from calm to a 7 knot breeze. We overhaul our cutting block today. At 4 P.M. we lowered for a school of blackfish but they were going faster than we could pull our boats.

Sept. 25th. Thursday the trades are light and variable as usual with some clouds and lightning. At night the weather is very warm.

Sept. 26th. Friday the trades veer and haul about every hour. Squally at night. We this day make another draft on Neptune's storehouse and get 4 skipjacks. There seems to be a strong westerly current about in these seas.

Sept. 27th. Saturday the wind is changeable indeed. We tack ship at 4 P.M. with the wind nearly south. This night the horizon looks wild indeed. There is a dark squally night before us.

Sept. 28th. Sunday the wind is in the East veering from North to South hauling 2 or three points evry hour. It is cloudy and no observation to day. This night the sky is as black as perdition with a little thunder and lightning and occasionally the rain comes down in floods. It is refreshing indeed and was hail'd with joy by all hands. Air calm.

Sept. 29th. Monday is calm the most of the day. Some go in swimming. The torrid sun bears down in earnest. There is plenty of fish about today but they don't notice a hook. There is likewise a shark about today seeking whom he may devour.

Sept. 20th. Friday a hot sun and light airs continue.

with a hot sun. We overhaul one of our foretopmast stays and set it and cross our fore and main royal yards. About noon we caught a blue shark 10 feet. Yet heedless of the presence of such enemies a boatload of our crew went off from the ship and went in swimming after dinner.

Oct. 2nd. Thursday light airs and hot weather continues. We caught a bird, took some of his feathers for a dog vane, then let him go. To vary the monotony of the scene this night two men had a fight. The object of contention was a soft plank or rather a plank they thought was softer than the rest. John Gurnee, a white, and Manuel, a black Portugee. The result was an eye cloth'd in mourning.

Oct. 3rd. Friday light airs and hot weather continues. We try to take a dolphin but do not succeed.

The thermometer is in the cabin, the coolest part of the ship. It stands at 86 at 4 P.M. today.

Oct. 4th. Saturday begins with the wind S.W. and veers to the southward. The weather hot as usual. It makes my soul weary to drag a life out here as I am at present situated. It seems that time will never come for to be homeward bound.

GRANGE MEETS IN ROCHESTER

The Rochester Grange met on Wednesday night and after the meeting they enjoyed a Christmas program during the lecturer's hour.

The hall was prettily decorated. The program was in line of "Putting Christ in Christmas". On the stage was a doll to represent the Christ Child lying in the hay between a lighted cross on the left and a lighted Christmas tree on the right. Christmas carols were sung and when "Silent Night" was sung the lights were put out excepting those on the stage.

Mrs. Annie Hartley recited a parody written by a war veteran from New Bedford on the second World War while he was in the hospital.

Mrs. Taylor read an old poem and also "The Night Before Christmas", and with the ringing of sleigh bells Santa Claus (Arthur Varney) entered. Gifts were exchanged.

The hall was decorated with red bows and poinsettias over the windows and a large red bell as you entered the hall.

SPEAKS AT STATES' FARMER'S EXCHANGE

Paul Morris, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roland L. Morris of Crystal Spring Road, Mattapoisett, gave a 5 minute talk at the meeting of the States' Farmer's Exchange at Smith Mills. He spoke as a member of the Green Thumb 4H club of Mattapoisett, speaking without notes and his talk was enthusiastically received.

The Soap Box Derby trophy, won by Paul, is now on display at the Library.

At the December 20th meeting of the 4H Club a birthday party was held to celebrate the birthday of their leader, Mrs. Marjorie Morris.

SPECIAL TOWN MEETING

A special Mattapoisett Town meeting will be held December 28th at 8 P.M. at the Town Hall to act upon the following articles which refer to fund transfers: Moneys for Veterans' Benefits, Aid to Dependent Children and Bureau of Old Age benefit.

It is absolutely necessary to have a quorum at this meeting to act on these articles. Your selectmen ask that you be sure to attend to make this quorum as some veteran, dependent child or old age recipient could be in need and moneys will not be available if the meeting were not properly attended, so that the articles couldn't be acted upon.

Be sure to attend, that's December 28th at 8 P.M. in the Town Hall. Your presence is a patriotic Town duty.

CHRISTMAS PROGRAM AT WOMAN'S CLUB

A reading from "Is It Nothing to You?" by Joost De Blannk was given by Mrs. Thomas Routhier, chairman of the literature-drama group, at the meeting of the Mattapoisett Woman's Club last Thursday afternoon in the vestry of the Congregational Church. The choral group, directed by Mrs. Frederic E. Reynard and accompanied by Mrs. Norman Converse, sang a medley of Christmas carols, which was followed by community singing of carols.

At the business meeting, conducted by Mrs. Howard H. Smith, it was voted to donate the following: $10 for a CARE holiday food package, $25 to the Hungarian Relief fund, $25 to the American Field Service for an ex-

The invocation was by Miss Dorothy Fox. Mrs. Harry Locke, reporting on the Veterans' Committee, stated that 25 ditty bags had been packed and sent to Chelsea Memorial Hospital. She read thank you notes from some of the recipients. She also stated that a coffee hour had been held at Otis Air Force Base in November.

The American Home group enjoyed a Christmas party with exchange of gifts on Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Manuel Correia. Mrs. Clifton Hatton, chairman, reported that the next meeting would be January 17th at the home of Mrs. Walter Jason when cake decorating will be demonstrated.

Mrs. Grace Engesser reporting for the Girls' Club said that the girls were to have their Christmas party that night at Stephenson's in Dartmouth. They also planned a traveling food sale for January and donated $5 to the United Fund.

Mrs. Engesser also reporting for the choral group announced that the group had accepted with regret the resignation of Mrs. Reynard as director and that plans for the group are now indefinite.

Presiding at the tea table were Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Edwin Winslow, Jr. The table was attractively decorated for the holiday season with Christmas greens, colored balls, red candles and Christmas cloth. Mrs. George Bradley, hostess, was assited by Mrs. Andrew D. Sylvia, Mrs. Charles MacLaunchlin and Mrs. Robert Rothwell.

CHRISTMAS LIGHTING

If you have not, because of the inclement weather, taken the opportunity to tour the town, you will find when you do some very clever expressions in lights and decorations in every nook and corner of the town. The wharf has its Christmas tree, and almost without exception every home is decorated and lighted. Floodlights here and there punch up the brilliance.

The churches have left no stones unturned with their lighting and decorating efforts to call to mind the true spirit of this Christmas season.

The merchants' places of business are distinctive and one in particular, Mr. Henry Dunseith of Pleasant View, has spent untold hours in enlarging his display. He has not officially entered the contest this year to vie for prize but drive in and get a close up of the beauty of the fireplace scene set behind the revolving snowman and you surely will appreciate what care and thought, to say nothing of the hours of work, expressed in lights and construction to help make Mattapoisett a place well worth coming to from near and far.

In your travels to enjoy the Christmas decorations you will be impressed by the growth of the town and the fine orderly developments and lovely homes that the proud people here so often speak of as our home in Mattapoisett, the nicest place to live in the world.

The whole town looks like a preview to set the stage for 1957, our centenary celebration year.

OPEN HOUSE ON MATTAPOISETT NECK

Mr. and Mrs. Wood of Grand View, Mattapoisett Neck, held an open house Sunday evening. Many friends and neighbors joined them at their new ranch style home. Their house overlooks Mattapoisett harbor, and the glass area on the front presents a striking view. The home features a large raised fireplace which divides the living room and the kitchen. It is paneled in California redwood which gives the entire room a warm appearance. The visit was enjoyed by all the guests who were present and they were unanimous in admiration of this home which is a classic example of the trend toward convenient, comfortable and beautiful ranch style homes.

Among the guests present were Mr. and Mrs. Allan Vaitses and daughter Gail, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Alden and daughter Faith, Mr. and Mrs. John Field, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford I. Tripp, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Johansen, Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Morgan, Mr. and Mrs. William Chase, Mrs. Raymond Stowell, Mr. and Mrs. John Murphy, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Barrie and son, Donald, and Mr. James Maury.

FRIDAY NIGHT BOWLING LEAGUE

Last Friday night's matches completed the first half of the season. The Snipes emerged victorious in their crucial match with the Penguins by taking two points and with it the first half championship. The Penguins tried hard, in fact they bowled somewhat over their average, but they ran into a red hot Snipe team. While winning, the Snipes established new highs for both the team single and team total with 583 and 1601 respectively. Herb Cray of the Snipes helped his team to victory by rolling 368 including a new season's high for a single string of 154.

Steve Hatch of the Weasels was high bowler for the night with 379, just one pin under the season's high. His total included a single of 153, also just one pin under the high single string. High bowler for the women was Marian Faria with 312. Hazel Sylvia had high single with 116.

Results: Snipes 2, Penguins 1; Townies 3, Woodpussys 0; Weasels 3, Beetles 0; Lightnings 3, Brutal Beasts 0.

THANKS TO A GOOD FRIEND

The Post Office personnel in our three towns deserve a hearty vote of thanks from all of us. A smooth job was done in handling the mountain of Christmas letters, greeting cards and packages. Christmas is a busy time for all of us but in particular the volume of mail staggers the imagination at the Post Offices throughout the country. This year their task was made much easier by the cooperation of everyone in bundling their mail and mailing everything earlier. We will all enjoy our holiday better knowing that the mailman is enjoying his and is not out still delivering mail. Thank you and well done to our respective postmasters and all of their staffs.

TO LEAVE FOR FLORIDA

Mr. and Mrs. Bryant Weeks of the Tub Mill Brook, Fairhaven Road, Mattapoisett will be leaving this Sunday for Naples, Florida where they will spend the winter employed by the Naples Hotel.

They plan many side trips to the countless points of interest in Florida, thereby combining business with pleasure. Mr. and Mrs. Weeks will return sometime in April to reopen the Tub Mill Brook for the season.

VISITED SISTER

Mrs. Daniel E. Hartley of Rochester spent part of last week with her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Corse.

SANTA'S HELPER

A Mattapoisett resident was Santa's helper at Cornwell's in Wareham this year. He had a fascinating time with the children. According to his own tell it was quite an education in the desires the young people have from dolls to electric brains.

STORY HOUR

Mrs. Winfield Jenney will be the story teller this Saturday, December 29th, at the Public Library at the annual Story Hour at 2 P. M. All children are invited to attend.

MATTAPOISETT CHRISTMAS LIGHTING DISPLAY

The best Christmas display in Mattapoisett's recent history was lighted this year. In every part of the town residents built beautiful and original Christmas settings to brighten our holiday. To judge such an array is a next to impossible task and people who have toured the town will know why. There are so many outstanding and different ideas. However the judges tried their best and feel that it is a tribute to all of the contestants that their work was so difficult. The real winner is the citizen of the town of Mattapoisett who enjoyed the display and every person who created a display and can take satisfaction in a job so very well done.

The Christmas Lighting committee chairman was Mr. Leonard Burnham. Judges were Mr. Fred Bieringer and Mr. Donald Jason. Mr. Arthur Smith very kindly drove the judges to every section of the town, in order to see everything.

Just over the Fairhaven line in Mattapoisett on Route 6 you have doubtless seen the manger scene which covers the entire front porch of the house. This remarkable display, the judges felt, conveyed the true spirit of the season. It was carefully and beautifully done and the judges felt that it richly deserved recognition as the outstanding private Mattapoisett display. It was built by Mr. Americo Elias and depicted the wise men following the star to the manger in the town of Bethlehem.

There were many fine window displays. The display of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Satterly of Acushnet Road gave the feeling of a living Christmas card. The tree in the large picture window, the entire room as the background with the people in it really brought the viewer right into the Satterly home with all of the warmth and cheer of Christmas shining through the window. This window was picked as the outstanding display of its type and as #2 in private homes.

In order to judge, the displays had to be broken down into types and this last category was the most numerous. There were many many lovely floodlighted homes and doorways. All the effort and care that went into these displays was fully realized and appreciated. It was a delight to see them. In this category the home of Chester Heuberger on Mechanic Street was chosen. It featured a floodlighted doorway with large candles, greenery and wreath with the chimney floodlighted and bearing a red NOEL.

We surely cannot go into the business displays without mentioning first the display at Pleasant View Gift Shop of Mr. Henry Dunseith. The revolving snowman, the fireplace and silver trees, the bird flying in the window and the shop itself was so beautifully done that we feel that it would receive a prize in any competition in any town or city. We hope that you drove in to see it. Mr. Dunseith, a winner for the last two years, did not enter the competition this year. We congratulate him for this wonderful display.

was the choice for the town's #1 business Christmas display. The Silver Gull is operated and decorated by Mr. Robert Smart.

Tex's Gasoline Station on Route 6 was brilliantly lighted and decorated and was chosen as the #2 business display. The station is owned by Mr. Manuel Oliveira.

Frank's Market, with its lighted greens all along the roof, was the third choice in business displays. The owner is Mr. Lester Texiera.

In the business group we hope you saw and enjoyed the lighting at the Village Drug Store. Mr. Leo Lariviere, owner, brightened Mattapoisett's Route 6 and Main Street corner with lights all around the building. Madeline's, owned by Mrs. Madeline Sylvia, on Main and Church Streets, was attractive with its window boxes of greens and bright Christmas tree. Also, The Village Shop, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Lemuel LeBaron, with its manger scene in the window; Keith's Ice Cream shop with its Christmas card windows, Mr. Nichalo, manager; Mahoney's lighted windows, Mr. Edward Arruda, manager; Farley's Tydol, Chappy Farley, manager; DeCoffe's Gulf Station, Murray DeCoffe, manager and the Live Wire Repair Shop, Leo Libby, owner.

In the third group which includes churches and town buildings, the St. Anthony's rectory was chosen as the outstanding display. The entire building outlined with colored lights and the choir and organ on the roof made a beautiful display. The statuary on the grounds were illuminated by colored lights.

The Fire Station with its fire eating Santa Claus and bright lights and greenery was chosen as #2.

The Congregational Church with its floodlights outlining its simple and classic lines was the final choice. This display has become a year round inspiration and focal point and a welcome one.

We hope everyone saw the wharf Christmas tree by Mr. Win Jenney. With its colored lights twinkling against the black background of night this tree seemingly floats alone in the air as a bright symbol of the joy of Christmas.

Thinking back over the route that we took we would like to recall Bill Croft's nice job on his Santa Claus and the little girls with the small deer on Linhares Avenue; the Pengilly home with its floodlights and Santa and reindeer; the Rowland home on Foster Street with its blinking Santa. On Church Street across from the Water Department there was a fine display by Nancy Rebello, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Rebello. The porch was decorated with green and silver sheets with Santa Claus and candy canes. On North Street there were the beautiful decorations at the Walega's home, the Nashes and Verdis. Farther out on North Street the Couets, Powers and Gardners. Also Chappy Farley's home with its lights and wise men on Main Street; the home of the Keanes on Park Street with a floodlighted Christmas card was so colorful and well painted; the star and lights at the home of Manuel Linhares on Beacon Street and the home of Manuel Luiz on Oakland Street.

There were so many more and we hope you saw them all. If you can't agree with the choice of the judges, please remember that every effort was an individual work of art. These Mattapoisett people who painted the night with color can be sure their particular display was a favorite of some of us, and that every display was enjoyed by all of us. You brightened our Christmas and we thank you.

BACK TO THE 1620 DAYS

If you have never been back to the colonial days of living, you have missed quite an experience. The blessing of these modern conveniences was taken away from many residents in this area over the weekend. Those who were more fortunate missed an experience they should not be sorry about, but one that did surely show the ruggedness of our forefathers. The loss of power in our way of life even for 6 hours is quite a deal. Being so fortunate as to have a fireplace only, when the heat goes off due to lack of electricty is not enough. The family dons everything it can put on and huddles about the opening where that cheery fire does not seem to expell anything but light. A candle flickers and there they sit listening intently for the welcome sound of a light company truck and its crew of brave men who will get to your trouble as soon as they can. As each car goes by you hope that is the one you're waiting for.

The neighbors who have their power call to offer the comforts of using their facilities so you can have a hot meal at least. You gallantly thank them and say your O K and proceed to heat your soup on the embers of the fire you have. When at long last the soup is hot, the coffee is cold, and all of a sudden the light bulb you left on leaps to full brightness, and the automatic oil burner charges into action. Never before did a fifty watt bulb seem to give so much light.

Valiant men, these boys who take their lives in their hands to climb well snow covered poles around the clock to give us the service we usually take so much for granted.

FROM THE LOG OF THE WHALESHIP CHARLESTON BY DANIEL A. BALDWIN ON THE VOYAGE FROM JUNE 28, 1844 to MARCH 9, 1847.

Oct. 5th. Saturday the wind is to the southward and westward. The ship makes 101 miles distance this day. At 5 this morning the rain came down in torrents and continued till noon. It was hailed with joy by all. The decks were flooded. The watch brought up their blankets and jackets to wash on deck. Then they began a skylark. The wet clothes were thrown from one to another. Some were taken in the scuppers and scrubbed. After the operation their naked hides looked more like red men than white. Their clothes received more injuries than benefits. It is wet and cloudy through the day.

Oct. 6th. Monday we have the wind from the Southward veering from West to East. The monotony around us remains unbroken.

Oct. 7th. Tuesday we have the trades fresh from E by N and E. We make 104 miles distance this day.

Oct. 8th. Wednesday the trades continue fresh. We cross the line in 168 west long. We saw a sail at half past 11 standing North. We make her out to be a whaler we think a cruising for sperm. Distance made 152 miles.

Oct. 9th, Thursday. This night we have a severe squall with vivid lightning and rain in torrents. Clew up and clew down is the orders. Our flying jib down haul parted and the sail blew all to ribbons. It is the only one we have. We are busy all day trying to repair it.

Oct. 10th. Friday squally and unsteady winds continue as usual. At 5 P.M. we spoke the ship ZONE of Nantucket, Capt. Starbuck, 2 years out with 1200 sperm bound on the line. She was just out from the Navigator Islands. Capt. Chester and Mr. Comstock went on board and staid till 8 in the evening. They got some yams, sweet potatoes, cocoanuts and one or two pineapples. They taste delicious after being without so long.

Oct. 11th. Saturday squalls continue and wind more favorable.

Oct. 12th. Sunday light trades from the Northward and our progress south is slow.

Oct. 13th. Monday light airs and squally. This night is as wild as fancy can paint. Dark clouds rolling like mountain upon mountain, the lightning a gleaming brightly around us with now and then gusts of wind that rolls our good ship on her side. In her struggles she seems like some huge monster nearly overcome. The scene is too wild to live on canvass. No observation at noon.

Oct. 14th. Tuesday we have variable winds and squalls. Make but little progress.

Oct. 15th. Wednesday squalls and variables continue. The sun is only 34 miles south south. We are in hopes to have better weather when he is to the north.

Oct. 16th. Thursday the wind continues unsteady and squally. At 5 keep the Ship off S.W. ½ S for Quiras (sic) Island reported by the ZONE in a different position than where laid down on the chart. Thermometer at noon 85.

Oct. 17th, Friday. Squally weather continues. At 11 we make Quarris (sic) Island. At 1 P.M. three boats go ashore after coccanuts. The Island is low surrounded by coral reefs that is always white with the foam of the waves. It is verry bad landing. We might have filled out three boats with cocoanuts if we could have got them through the surf. We got perhaps 75 and it became so rough that we were obliged to leave for the ship. It is 3 miles long and 1½ broad covered with a luxuriant growth of vegetation. Cocoanuts abound. There would not be much trouble in getting enough to fill a ship. Solitude dwells there undisturbed by human beings. I saw rats, crabs and a plenty of musquitos. Some amusing scenes occured in landing on the reef. The little isle is as beautiful as fancy pictures the primeval paradise. At 5 P.M. we all get on board the ship during a storm of rain and wind, a forlorn looking set. We keep the ship off and reef the topsails. The sky wears a threatening frown.

Oct. 18th, 1845. Saturday the trades are fresh. We set no topgallant sails and run off to make the Navigator Islands. At ten at night we make the land covered with clouds. We wear ship and haul on wind to the Eastward.

Oct. 19th. Sunday finds us lying off and on the Island of Oleewhy (sic), one of the Navigators, waiting for daylight. At daybreak the land was to southward and eastward distant 20 miles. It is somehwat like the form of a triangle with 20 miles length on each side. It slopes from the shore to the center gradually when it attains an elevation of perhaps 1000 feet. The shores are defended by reefs of coral rocks that are always white with the foam of the everlasting waves. It is the most beautiful land that my two eyes ever saw. There was a beautiful white coral beach fringed with cocoanut, orange and other trees with deep green verdure amongst which the natives build their dwellings. Fancy can paint no earthly scene brighter than this. Three canoes came off to us. They were frail barks propelled by three men with a boy to bail in each. They had shells, some fruit, cocoanuts & C. Their principal want was tobacco and knives. We understood to say there was a harbor to the southward. We kept off but did not see any. They were finely formed men. They had a small covering of mat around the loins, otherwise they were entirely naked. Their bodies were tattooed from the navel to the knee. Not finding a harbor we keep off for the Friendly Islands.

Oct. 20th. Monday we have fresh trades, wind enough without topgallant sails the most of the day. During the night the beautiful Isle of Oleewhy faded from our sight. At daylight our vision was bound by water and sky. Thermometer at noon 81½. We make Land ahead at 2 P.M.

Oct. 21st. Tuesday the trades continue fresh. The land in sight is Boscawers (sic) Island. We tack ship at 9 P.M. At 2 A.M. we tack ship again and stand toward the land. At daylight this morning we saw breakers on the lee bow. At 7 A.M. the coral reef bore west one half a mile distant? Boscawers Island bore S 3/4 W distant 16 miles. I could see a chain of breakers one mile long running West by South and East by North. They are not on the chart. This reef at noon by the log we found to be 25 miles from the Island of Boscawers bearing as above. We run one and a half miles to windward of Boscawers Isle. It is 4 miles in circumference. It rises abruptly from the beach in the form of a cone to the height of 8 or 10 hundred feet, covered with trees, cocoanuts and other tropical trees. I saw the huts of the Natives nestling among the tropical foliage. They don't clean up the land. The trees bear them all the necessaries of life. Keppels Island that lies 8 miles to the southward is a low level Island with some broken land in the interior. It appears to be exceedingly fertile from mast head. I saw on the north side toward Boscawers what I think was a good harbor sheltered by a coral reef. I was about 2 miles from it. There seem'd to be a passage in the reef large enough to admit ships. Inside is smooth in all weather. I saw a reef that made off to the Northward and Westward from Keppels Island farther than I could see from masthead, all white with surf. We have to tack ship to weather the Eastward of Keppels Island. Thermometer at noon 83½.

The first snowfall of this winter, in Mattapoisett, blankets the home of the David H. Turners on Church Street. The freak storm of thunder and lightning accompanied by a blizzard suprised us all and wrecked havoc with transportation, electrical connections and travel plans.

THE VILLAGE SMITH

The watercolor painting on the cover this week by Donald Jason is a picture of Edward R. Cole at work at his forge in Fairhaven, Mass. It took many skills to equip a whaleship for the long and hard voyage, and one of the most vital of all was the smith's art. Mr. Cole was the last of a vanished race of men. The village smith, who was immortalized by Longfellow, was one of the most important men in the town. Mr. Cole, in this painting, is working on a temple or toggle iron. There is testimony in Mattapoisett that their work was well done. In the home of Mrs. F. Gilbert Hinsdale on Water Street, Mattapoisett there is a most complete collection of harpoons. At least one of these is twisted into 2 knots tied there in the titanic struggle with the whale. That the harpoon is on Mrs. Hinsdale's wall is testimony that in spite of the terrific strain it held and caught the whale.

The smith, a mighty man was he, and a mighty clever man was he also. Many of our greatest inventions originated in the blacksmith shop. This is one segment of Americanna that has disappeared to the regret of all.

Miss Christine Moss celebrated her 6th birthday Sunday, January 6th, with a small party at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Moss, of Tobey Lane, Mattapoisett. She had a few friends in and games were played and refreshments were served.

MISS ELLEN SELLEY DIES

The passing of Miss Ellen Selley of Oxford Street, Fairhaven, Mass., former owner of the the Ellen Bake Shop, brings to mind the passing of one more milestone of our experience. Miss Selley was well known in the area as a fine businesswoman and for her keen interest in bowling. Having been a consistent advertiser in the Presto from the third issue on, she kept a weekly contact with the advertisers who have thoroughly enjoyed her products. Our weekly calls at her shop all this time allowed us to know her and appreciate her in a business and personal way, and causes a real feeling of the loss of a friend, who in her absence leaves a warm appreciation for having known her.

MATTAPOISETT CENTER SCHOOL NEWS

January 7, 1957

The helpers for Mrs. Martin's first grade this week are Michael Collyer, Paul Zychowicz, Lawrence Smith, Alice Valley, Jeffrey Chase, Edward Francis and David Helfand.

We are making pictures of boys and girls sliding and skating and making snowmen to cut out and tack to our bulletin board.

We have a new calendar on our chalkboard. June Warburton and Guy Verfaille drew a picture for it. We are noticing the weather each day to put down on our calendar.

Each child has his full name printed on a card and taped to his desk so that everyone can learn to write his entire name on his papers.

We are learning what it means to count after 10. We can count and write up to 20.

Jeffrey Chase brought a harmonica to school. His grandfather sent it from Japan.

The children in Miss Cosman's second grade all had a wonderful Christmas vacation. They came back and showed us some of their toys during "telling time". They took their Christmas candles down and put up

The starting five for Center School has played very fine basketball. Bruce Dunn, Edward Sylvia and Charles Fermino have been scoring high and getting plenty of rebounds. Mike Fitzgerald and Norman Secia have been the playmakers and have shown they can drive extremely well.

MATTAPOISETT LOSES LESTER DURFEE

Lester A. Durfee, 46, of Main Street, Mattapoisett, who has been confined to the Baker Memorial Hospital in Boston for 8 weeks, died on Wednesday, January 2nd. Stricken with a rare blood ailment, Mr. Durfee waged a courageous fight for life. He rallied many times in the eight weeks of his illness, and his many friends in Mattapoisett and his co-workers at the Aerovox Corp. answered the call for blood donors to replace the nearly 40 pints of blood required for transfusion.

A graduate of Fairhaven High School and Northeastern University, he spent several years in the Forest Conservation Service in Vermont before moving to Mattapoisett. He worked with Mr. George Eldridge before joining the Aerovox Corporation.

We feel the loss of Lester very deeply in this town. He was well known and well liked, and active in town and church affairs. Only a short while ago he headed the committee on painting the interior of the Congregational Church, and much credit must go to him for the beautiful result of that effort. It is a hard thing to sustain the loss of a young man who was a fine citizen of his town.

Our deepest sympathy goes out to his widow, Mrs. Helen Durfee, his two daughters, Linda and Lorine, and his mother, Mrs. Ethel Durfee of Fairhaven.

No. 1 had a score of 900 and Team No. 2 a score of 800.

The questions in the last half were trick questions, and the final scores were Team No. 1, 2100 and Team No. 2, 1000.

Each man got a prize, but an extra special prize went to the highest score winner, who was Marshall Ross, who had a perfect score of 100%. Mr. Taylor thought it very remarkable that Mr. Ross had every question right as the trick questions are difficult and he hasn't known it to happen for a very long time.

ATTENDED MEETING OF NATIONAL GRANGE

Mrs. Lemuel LeBaron of Mattapoisett left last Thursday to attend a meeting of the National Grange at Portland, Maine for the weekend. The meeting was held at the Eastland Hotel. All the New England heads were present which is a real honor to the Grand Officers who travel many miles to meet with the subordinate heads and coordinate workshop programs.

The National Master, Herschel D. Newsom, spoke on "It Can Be Done", a subject regarding National Affairs in Washington.

The Firemen (Pardon Gibbs 329) won 3 from Bettencourt's Market (Arthur Bassett, Sr. 310).

Dennis Mahoney & Sons (Robert Jefferson 327) won 3 from Gibbs' Farm Dairy (Paul Gibbs 312).

FRIDAY NIGHT BOWLING LEAGUE

The Friday Night Bowling League resumed action last week after the annual two week holiday lay-off. All eight teams saw action. The Beetles were the only three point winners when they swept all three from the Brutal Beasts. High man for the Beetles was Ken Tuttle with 327.

Other results were: Townies 2, Lightnings 1; Woodpussys 2, Penguins 1; Snipes 2, Weasels 1.

The match between the Townies and the Lightnings developed into a real battle. After splitting the first two points the third string ended in a dead heat. An extra string had to be bowled to decide the point. This also ended in a tie, so a second extra string had to be bowled. The Townies finally won out with good clutch bowling by Marshall Ross and Joe Costa.

LIONS CLUB BIRTHDAY CALENDAR

This message is intended to let you know what an organization like the Lions Club has for its purpose. Designed as it is with only one objective, "Service to all needy people", it's rare for us to know just what good comes of the funds it raises as it has never been publicized.

The National organization, of which the Mattapoisett Lions Club is a member, operates on a nationwide scale, and at present are collecting eyeglasses. The local club is making efforts to further this project and will be appreciative of your donations of unwanted discarded eyeglasses or frames in any condition. Be a good neighbor and donate so that several needy children may have better vision.

As a strictly local effort the Lions membership is again this year soliciting for Mattapoisett's Lions Birthday Calendar. The proceeds from this solicitation will all be used for worthy Mattapoisett projects and deserves your support, if it were just a donation for which you got nothing for your money but the satisfaction of knowing you were a part of something good for the community. Much real pleasure can come to you as an individual by subscribing to and buying one of these local Centenary Calendars. Many birthday and anniversary greetings are expressed because your personal identification appears on the calendar dates. It's been fun this past year for many to have a little informal neighborhood coffee hour because the calendar reminded someone it was your birthday, and got the neighborhood to join in the fun in honor of the event.

During recent months from moneys raised from last year's calendar and other Lions projects among its members, such nice accomplishments for the good of Mattapoisett have been visual eye testing equipment and assistance in procuring dental equipment for the Center School, a resuscitator for the Police cruiser, the delivery of Christmas baskets and the purchase of a hospital bed to be loaned to anyone needing such equipment. These are among the many services rendered by our Lions Club.

When a member calls to explain the calendar to you greet him as your friend for indeed he's just one of your neighbors asking your cooperation and help in making it possible for his group through your generosity to make Mattapoisett an even better place to live.

MRS. WEBB WRIGHT SPEAKS AT GUILD MEETING

Mrs. Webb Wright of Fall River spoke on social action at the meeting of the Women's Community Guild of the Mattapoisett Congregational Church last Tuesday in the vestry. Mrs. Webb urged the women to help in the community to combat juvenile delinquency, alcoholism, and also to assist in bettering the condition in the State prisons.

Mrs. Frederic E. Reynard presided at the business meeting, when it was reported that over $500. had been realized from the annual Christmas Fair.

TRAFFIC HAZARDS REDUCED BY FINE SNOW REMOVAL JOB IN MATTAPOISETT

Many nice things are said which never get to the persons that would most appreciate hearing them.

"Didn't Manny Nunes and his crew do a fine job of handling the past snow".

May I add doesn't he always.

Comments of a businessman from Pawtucket, Rhode Island that Mattapoisett offered him the best driving conditions he had seen anywhere shouldn't go without mention.

I know we all appreciate the above conditions but several were so expressive they asked us to say Thank You to our Street Department for them.

IN FORMOSA

Mrs. George Bettencourt of Rochester has received a letter from her brother, Roy M. Geggatt, that he has arrived in Formosa. He and his family had to leave Egypt in October because of the fighting there. He left Providence on December 26th for New York to go to California where he spent a few hours with his wife's family, and then on to Honolula, Wake Island, Okinawa, Tokyo and Formosa. His family did not go with him as he expects to return home in May.

to school. It is made of crayons.

We have a different calendar this month. Each child makes a picture of a snowball for the day and writes the date on it. Then that child draws a picture of the weather of that day on the board.

We have finished making our bulletin board of a snow scene. Every child made a picture of someone skiing, sledding or skating. On another board we have new words about winter. We will draw a picture to put beside each word. Stephen Dexter's drawing is placed beside the word "winter".

Our first grade saw a movie in our Audio-Visual Room about bicycle safety and trains.

This week we have talked about our Christmas toys. On Tuesday, the girls brought their favorite dolls and we called it Doll Day. We talked about them and made a story about them.

Thursday was Toy Day for the boys. Each boy brought a favorite toy to school and showed it and talked about it. Then we made a story about it.

Mrs. Morgan's helpers for last week were Lynette Ponti, Alan Apperson, Shirley Barboza, Marcia Wacaser, Francis Kelley and Thomas Harrison. Patrol boy was Robert Sherman and patrol girl was Jane Wordell.

This first grade class saw three movies last week. One was about bicycle safety an trains, and one was about milk for the city.

Each child in Mrs. Morgan's room brought in his or her favorite Christmas toy and showed it to the class.

The second graders in Mrs. Pallatroni's room have begun their study of our town. A list was made of the different people in our town who help to make and keep our town a nice place in which to live.

The week we thought and talked and wrote about our policemen. We discussed the qualities that make a good policeman, as well as the duties they have to perform.

Helpers for the week were Kenneth Lomba, Muriel Costa, George White, Billy Harris, Alan Perkins, Patricia Furnans and Billy Milne.

Miss Cosman's second grade --

We have new pictures up in our room. Some are about winter and snow. Some are about people who help us. Yesterday we made snow flakes. Now they are out in the hall on the bulletin board.

Our arithmetic is improving, and we are more careful when we say things. We want to speak well.

Mrs. Ford's fourth grade learned how to write with pen and ink this week. The children enjoy this very much.

The eighth graders have a new Spelling Chart on the bulletin board on which each student places a star indicating his grade for the weekly spelling test. This way everyone can watch his progress from week to week. The stars indicate the following:

Gold star - A
Silver star - A
Blue star - B
Red star - C
Green star - D

In Mr. Neron's science class, the eighth graders have been preparing notebooks on the Solar System, Pre-historic Animals, Rocks and Autogiros.

COVER PICTURE

To furnish a little change from the snow that we have been looking at for some time we thought that we would look ahead to Spring this week. This picture, taken by Mr. James Maury of Mattapoisett, is of an old Rochester Cape Cod cottage off Hartley Road. The home is not occupied now but it makes a beautiful picture in its location in the center of a large field.

COVER PICTURES

Brrrr! What a week. The sub zero arctic air that has been with us furnished the unusual sights on the cover. Mattapoisett harbor was frozen tight enough to allow strolls on the ice, and bicycle riding was also seen there. Not only was this harbor and Marion harbor frozen, but so was the bay itself. On Sunday morning at Ned's Point Lighthouse the entire bay was solid as far as the eye could see. It has been a number of years since this has happened. Wednesday morning while the harbor was freezing, clouds of mist covered the water, as the bitter air cooled the warmer water to the freezing point, and by night the ice was formed. According to the Farmer's Almanac this was bound to

Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Johnson, Jr. and daughter, Carol, are to occupy the lower apartment in their present house on Pearl Street, "The 1820" house. Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. MATTAPOISETT CENTER SCHOOL NEWS

January 21, 1957

Helpers for Mrs. Martin's first grade last week were Walter Sylvia, Carol Mansfield, Ronald Egan, Carolyn Lewis, Brian Hopkins, Stephen Dexter and June Warburton.

We have finished illustrating our "winter words". Faith Perkins made a snowman of paper and covered it with cotton. Carolyn Lewis drew a picture for "cold" and Jeffrey Chase made pictures of snowballs for that word.

This week we have started learning about "families" in words. We think of those that rhyme and draw pictures beside them.

Mrs. Martin's class visited the Mattapoisett Library. Miss Fox was there to show them the books, racks and how the library is conducted. Then the pupils looked at some of the books. They hope that their mothers and fathers will take them to the library regularly to borrow books. Mrs. Martin borrowed some books that almost everyone can read himself--the pupils like the pictures in them.

We have noticed that our turtle, Winky, is hibernating for the winter. He sleeps almost all of the time.

We have learned about the staff and the scale this week. Mrs. Winslow came.

At recess, we took a walk on Water Street. We found that the harbor is all frozen over. We saw a dog walking on the ice out in the harbor.

Paula Mogilnicki, Carolyn Lewis, Penny Denham, James Macomber, Anne Silsby and Carol Mansfield have been helpers with our works this week.

On Tuesday of last week, Patrolman Ralph Moore talked to the boys and girls in Mrs. Pallatroni's second grade. Mr. Moore told the children about a policeman's job. He explained that a policeman is their friend. Mr. Moore also showed the girls and boys his handcuffs, club and gun, and he gave each child a parking ticket. Each boy and girl has written Mr. Moore thanking him for coming and talking to the class about a policeman.

Miss Cushman's fifth grade has completed its study of the Solar System in science. Our next unit is about "Changes in Living Things".

In social studies we have finished learning about the growth of the United States. We are now studying the Civil War.

This class is also learning long division with one-place divisors.

MATTAPOISETT POLICE ASSOCIATION NEWS

At the regular monthly meeting of the Police Association plans were made for the annual Police Ball to be held June 7th. As this is the centennial year it is planned to make this event a gala affair. The previous balls have increased each year in popularity and therefore it will be necessary to limit the sale of tickets. Harry Erhard was appointed general chairman to be assisted by all other members of the Association. Nelson Harriman, Sr. will be in charge of advertising.

A ways and means committee was appointed by the President, Ralph V. Moore, and plans are also under way to hold a number of Chicken barbecues during the summer months.

BAND REHEARSALS TO START

Band rehearsals will start in the Mattapoisett Town Hall at 7:30 Friday night under the direction of Roland Bessette. Any and all players of band instruments are welcome to meet with them and enjoy the pleasure of playing with others for the enjoyment of all who like to hear them. This is the centennial year, and therefore it is particularly desirable that Mattapoisett have the best band ever. If you play an instrument attend the rehearsals and help put our town on the map. Nothing can attract people more than the pleasant relaxation of hearing good music and knowing they will meet friends at the concert and have a nice social evening.

FROM THE LOG OF THE WHALESHIP CHARLESTON BY DANIEL A. BALDWIN ON THE VOYAGE FROM JUNE 28, 1844 to MARCH 9, 1847.

Oct. 23rd. Thursday morning at 6 we saw the Island of Vavaoo (sic) our destin'd port bearing S. W. by W 40 miles distant. It is one of the Friendly Islands. We keep her off with studding sails set. This morning we get a distance between the sun and moon and find the longitude to be 173° 45' West, at half past 8 A.M. and 173° 29' by other distances. At 11 we spoke the Ship GOOD RETURN of New Bedford just out from Vavaoo. Capt. Chester and Mr. Comstock went on board and took dinner and staid till 1 P.M. She was from Kamskatka, 14 mos. out, 1300 barrels. We keep off for the harbor. Get up a range of cable, shackle them and get the anchors off the bow. We lie off and on this night.

Oct. 24th. Friday, this morning at daylight we stand in for the harbor of Port Refuge, Vavaoo. We go in without a pilot and anchor at 2 P.M. We lie one mile below the town. We saw a ship to leeward in the offing. She comes in sight at dark. The wind dies away. Three boats go and help tow her to her anchorage. It proves to be the NEPTUNE of New London with 900 barrels. Soon after we anchored the ship was thronged with 900 barrels. Soon after we anchored the ship was thronged with naked savages and surrounded by their canoes. This is an English Missionary station. The sweet songs of the birds that flutter about in the groves of this beautiful island is a charming contrast to the music of the waters that have so long sounded in my ears.

Oct. 25th Saturday with us and Sunday with missionaries. This morn I was arous'd from my slumbers by the songs of the birds and the crowing of cocks, strange sounds to my ears. No natives came off today. All is quiet on shore. I can hear the natives singing hymns occasionally. The ships company all go on shore this day. I attended the native chapel today and hear Mr. Turner, the missionary here, preach in the native tongue. Mr. Turner preached to the crews of our ship, the NEPTUNE and the English missionary from the 119th Psalm.

Oct. 26th. Sunday here, Monday ashore. We take our casks to the watering place.

Oct. 27th. Monday finds me on shore having a taste of savage life.

Oct. 28th. Tuesday finds me at the watering place among the natives.

Oct. 29th. Wednesday finds me still amongst the natives.

Oct. 30th. Thursday I go on board the ship.

Oct. 31st. Friday I visit the watering place in the morning.

November 1845 - Vavaoo - Friendly Isles

November 1st. Saturday all our boats go to the watering place after water. There is 7 boats there before daylight and 42 men. The hooting and yelling would outvie any noise from bedlam. The natives must have thought that the imprisoned spirits of the infernal regions were let loose. We get our water off and stow down this day.

Nov. 1st. Saturday, Sunday here. Mr. Comstock and myself keep ship. All the rest except 4 go onshore to meeting. The inhabitants of more enlightened lands that profess to be Christians would do well to take pattern in the observance of the Sabbath after this simple minded and primitive race.

Nov. 2nd. Sunday it rains. The carpenter cuts a stick for a rudder but we cannot get it. John Gray runaway last night.

Nov. 3rd. Monday we get ready for sea and do little but traffic with the natives. In the afternoon some go on shore.

Nov. 4th. Tuesday we are early thronged with the natives. At 7 A.M. we get underweigh in company with the ship NEPTUNE of New London and by noon the beautiful island of Vauvau (sic) had faded from view. May peace dwell in its bosom.

Times change but people are still the same. This picture was given to the Mattapoisett Library by Mr. Charles Purrington of the Old Dartmouth Historical Society. It is from an old glass plate which was recently printed. People stop today at the Herring Weir on Route 6, Mattapoisett to see the herrings make their annual run. This picture shows the old bridge and weir. There is no date but it is approximately 1900. Perhaps you will recognize some of the people and if you do and will tell us, we would like to identify them for the interest of the readers. Thanks to Miss Fox of the Library.

are required to bring them out. Because of this circumstance, it is impossible to have the necessary busses at the local school until 3:30 P.M. at the earliest, for the elementary pupils.

At the meeting of the School Committee on January 25, 1957, it was decided the best way this problem could be met was to revise the hours of the local school at such time as New Bedford changed its schedule, keeping approximately the same length of school day.

Beginning Monday, February 4, the school hours will be set for 9:30 A.M. to 3:30 P.M., with bus arrivals planned for 9:15-9:20 A.M. Parents may expect the bus routes to be operated in the morning at about 25-30 minutes later than the present practice.

After a trial period on this schedule, the committee may have to authorize further adjustments as there are still some uncertainties involved in getting the busses to the local school for a 3:30 P.M. closing. Much depends upon afternoon traffic conditions in New Bedford and Fairhaven.

The contractor will arrange any changes in plans for high school pupils and they will be informed on their routes on the morning of February 4th. For the present it is intended that all high school pupils will be transported home before elementary pupils. To do otherwise will result in overcrowding the elementary loads.

BOY SCOUT PAPER DRIVE

The Boy Scouts in Mattapoisett will have a paper drive on February 9th and 10th. They would appreciate it if anyone having newspapers, magazines, cartons, etc. would have them bundled and set out for pick up on these days.

The money obtained from this drive will be used for a very worthwhile Boy Scout project, so it is hoped that a large collection can be made.

BROTHERHOOD TO SPONSOR AUCTION

The Rochester Men's Brotherhood will sponsor an auction early in April. Articles contributed will be gratefully received and called for. Please contact any Brotherhood member or call Mr. Elmer Lawrence, Jr. at ROckwell 3-2042.

MATTAPOISETT CENTER SCHOOL NEWS

February 4, 1957

The children in Mrs. Morgan's room made animal puppets in Mrs. Walker's art class. The children can make the puppets move by using their fingers.

Each reading group in this first grade class read stories and had each child recorded on the tape recorder. Then they listened as Mrs. Morgan played it back to them. Each child talked about his own reading and told what he needed to do to make his reading better. The class voted the best readers to be Robert Sherman, Deborah Dexter, Thomas Harrison and David Roderick.

Patrol leaders last week were Darlene Dycus and Mark Chase. The room helpers were Lynette Ponti, Alan Apperson, Shirley Barboza,

Mrs. Martin's class visited the town library a few weeks ago on a Friday at 1:30. Miss Fox showed the children all of the rooms and the books. She took them up the "squeaky" stairs and they walked all around the balcony. They talked about their visit when they returned to school on Monday. The pupils liked especially the stairs, the big dictionaries, and the awards that had been given some people in Mattapoisett.

Last week, we pupils in Miss Cosman's second grade learned more about "our town" and the people who help us. We know about plumbers, electricians, bakers, laundry men and many more.

We started a street map of Mattapoisett last week. We are making it on the reading table.

We went to the "movie room" one morning last week and used the new machine which helps us to get arithmetic faster and better. This machine is called a Tachistoscope.

Center School's basketball team has a 7-1 record now. The team traveled to Dartmouth a week ago Tuesday and beat the Elmer Poole School by a margin of 54-50. Secia and Fermino were the top scorers, getting 18 and 11 respectively.

The next Thursday, the team played the Bourne Junior High School and won 48-17. Secia again led the team with 18 points. Santos and Dunn also played fine ball.

VISITED IN ROCHESTER

Mrs. Mary Sousa of Fairhaven and Mrs. Belle Frates of Acushnet visited Miss Mary Bettencourt of Rochester on Thursday.

HOME FROM HOSPITAL

James Hartley has returned home from Tobey Hospital, Wareham, and is convalescing at home and is much improved.

If I could know, when each day dies,
I had brought joy to tired eyes;
If I could know, when falls each night,
I'd helped to make some child's life bright;

If I could know, at set of sun,
The fruit of some good deed I'd done;
I'd count my life of grander mould
Than if I'd simply gathered gold.

CENTENNIAL PARADE COMMITTEE MAKE PLANS

The Mattapoisett Centennial Parade Committee, under the chairmanship of Ralph W. LeBaron, met at the Florence Eastman Post 280, American Legion Hall and accelerated plans already underway for Mattapoisett's biggest and best parade yet, this coming summer. Committee members present were John Raphael, Richard Young, Alden Kinney, Joseph R. Nunes, John DeCosta, Robert Raphael and George Monteiro.

The Centennial program, due to begin on Sunday, August 4th and run for one full week through Sunday, August 11th, will be highlighted by a gigantic parade on Saturday, August 10th.

It was voted to contact various military, musical, marching, and miscellaneous units as to their availability to participate in this grand parade commemorating Mattapoisett's 100th birthday.

Trophies have been donated by Chief of Police Kinney and the Florence Eastman Post 280 American Legion unit, and latter's to be awarded in the Historical Float Division as first and second prizes. These trophies and others will be on display at one of the town stores. A cash prize will also be awarded to the gentleman raising the best beard; incidentally, some of the local citizenry have already started their crop.

The parade route was discussed, but due to various difficulties encountered, was not finalized. The selection of judges will also be announced at the next meeting.

JUVENILE GRANGE CELEBRATES BIRTHDAY

The Mattapoisett Juvenile Grange celebrated its 22nd birthday at their meeting last Friday night. Nancy Corcoran, master, and John Sylvia, overseer, conducted the business meeting. A thank you letter was read from the Mattapoisett subordinate Grange for the $50 the Juveniles presented to them on their birthday night.

Susan Luiz has been named director of the Needlework Guild of America with Mrs. Charles Ricketson, an honorary member, as co-director. This national organization makes articles for the needy, and the Mattapoisett Juveniles plan to make diapers. A new project will be a sale of decorated crash towels.

Susan Luiz requested additional pieces of blanket and white cloth for a dog hospital.

The Juveniles will give a demonstration meeting at the Rochester Grange on February 27th.

The program, directed by Mrs. Dorothy Junior, was comprised of instrumental solos and tap dancing by the St. Paul Church band of New Bedford.

A birthday cake, made and decorated by Mrs. Chester Dexter, was cut by John Dexter, refreshment chairman. It was served with ice

MATTAPOISETT YOUTH CENTER OPENED

Approximately 200 persons were on hand as the St. Anthony's Church Youth Center was dedicated last Tuesday night. Parioshioners and townspeople had the opportunity to hear the Most Rev. James L. Connolly, DD, bishop of the Fall River Diocese officiate as the building was blessed following a procession from the rectory.

The Youth Center is a beautiful conversion of an old barn on the St. Anthony Rectory property. Knotty pine paneling reflects the light from the many windows in the southern addition which was built on to the original structure. The floor is tiled and inlaid with a shuffleboard court. There are sanitary facilities and an office for the director. A snack bar is planned and will be built soon to complete the project. The entire project is the work of volunteers from the parish who worked in their spare time. Joseph Nunes, carpenter; Domingo Sylvia, plumbing and heating and John Carlos, electrician, were the leaders of this work, and they were joined by many other workers. The work has taken a year of effort by these volunteers, under the direction of the Rev. Damien J. Veary SS.CC., pastor.

The center will be open to all of the youth of Mattapoisett without restriction. Its indoor activites will include ping pong, dancing, basketball and snack bar, and in the summer outdoor activities such as tennis and

At the opening the Rev. Leo T. Sullivan was the principal speaker. He is the director of CYO in the Fall River Diocese, and he spoke on the help the Youth Center will accomplish in training the young people to be good and useful citizens. He said, "It is difficult to realize how far reaching this youth center influence can be in the world - in the way young people are trained here, they will influence others all over the world, wherever they go in later life". The Rev. Sullivan also praised the people of the parish who contributed so generously to the center and the people who contributed so much time and effort in the building of the center.

David Harrison, Center president, thanked the Rev. Veary on behalf of the youth of the St. Anthony's parish and said, "we will be a credit to the parish and the town".

Mr. Raymond Murphy, director of recreation in Natick, praised the people of the parish for doing the job themselves instead of the all to prevalent attitude of people in other towns who expect the town or government to provide the location and the money. Mr. Murphy, Congressional Medal of Honor winner, congratulated the priests and parishioners for doing it themselves.

Bishop Connolly expressed delight to be present for the ceremony of blessing the new building which he said was put together with skill and love. He said, "Here young people can find happiness and stimulation in the company of each other. He also praised the parishioners for taking the problem into their own hands with the fine result.

The Youth Center will be used by youngsters

VALENTINE LUNCHEON PLANNED BY GUILD

A Valentine covered dish luncheon will be held in the vestry of the Mattapoisett Congregational Church this Thursday, February 14th, at 12:30, followed by a game party.

Each person is asked to bring a hot dish, salad or dessert, and also their own dishes and silverware. Cards and games are also to be brought for the game party. Coffee will be provided in charge of Miss Dorothy Fox and Mrs. Ira Hiller.

Mrs. Frederic E. Reynard is general chairman of the social affair, which is sponsored by the Community Guild. All women interested are invited to attend. There will be no charge but a small fee will be asked from each person to pay for the coffee, cream and sugar.

Mothers with pre-school children will also have the opportunity to come and enjoy the luncheon. Mrs. Roland C. Shaw will act as baby sitter in the small Sunday School room, and each mother will contribute a small amount for this service.

The affair promises to be a friendly get together for all, and a chance to meet your friends and neighbors for a most enjoyable day.

The regular monthly meeting of the Guild was held last Tuesday, when members present were taken on a trip to Alaska via colored slides and a lecture by the Rev. Eugene D. Dolloff, S.T.D., pastor of the First Baptist Church in New Bedford.

Mrs. Frederic E. Reynard presided at the meeting, and the devotional service was led by Mrs. George D. Heath, Jr.

Recommendations voted upon were: $10 for the March of Dimes; $150 for Missionary Work in the Micronesian Islands; $35 for the Student Church movement in New England and $25 towards the development of the Congregational Church Conference Center in Framingham.

Men's magazines are being collected for the State Farm in Bridgewater and women's magazines for St. Luke's Hospital. Donations may be left in the vestry.

Pouring at the tea table with a valentine centerpiece were Mrs. Albert Goodwin and Mrs. Ross B. Hopkins. Assisting the hostess, Mrs. J. Louis Roberts, were Mrs. Carleton Scott,

MATTAPOISETT CENTER SCHOOL NEWS

The children in Mrs. Morgan's room have a bird feeding platform that Mr. Walter Apperson made for them. Alan Apperson is in charge of feeding the birds for this week.

Patrol boy and girl for last week were Deborah Dexter and David Chase.

Helpers for Mrs. Martin's first grade class this week are Guy Verfaille, Lawrence Smith, Jeffrey Chase, Alice Valley, Edward Francis, David Helfand and Douglas Turner.

On Thursday, the first grades went to the audio-visual room to see the movie "In Every Day".

The school has bought for the first grades several educational games which are most helpful in the study of phonics. A doll house and family have also been purchased which we integrate with reading and social studies. Mrs. Martin's grade made a story about the games and doll family.

This week we learned that there are two important birthdays this month. On a board we have a big birthday cake and a picture of George Washington and Abraham Lincoln. We learned that they were Presidents of the U.S. and also that they were honest men.

Mrs. Pallatroni's second grade visited the fire station on Monday last week. Fire Chief George Bradley talked to the girls and boys and showed them the whole firehouse. Mr. Bradley let the children get on the fire trucks and he rang the siren for them. While we have been studying about the fireman and his role in our community, the children have brought in many things which have made our

NINTH GRADE PRESENT ANNUAL PLAY

"Twixteen", a three-act comedy by Betty Knapp, was presented by the ninth grade class at Mattapoisett Center School last Friday night in the auditorium.

Directed by Mrs. Lee Root, assisted by Mrs. Theodore Agnalt, members of the faculty, the play was highly enjoyed by a large audience.

The scene took place in the bedroom of Rodney Wells, a young teen-ager, played by Edward Sylvia. Rodney's love poems to a girl were somehow getting mixed up and being delivered to the wrong girl by two of his young friends, Pete Thompson played by Richard Mandell, and Specks Howard played by Jeffrey Lewis. One of the poems also got mixed up with a campaign speech of Rodney's father, played by Ernest Denault, who was running for mayor. Others in the play were Mrs. Wells, Anne Ledoux, and Rodney's two sisters, Francie, Trudi Correia, and Elizabeth, Doreen Sylvia. The girls in Rodney's life were Gwendolyn Todd, played by Susan Avila, and Doris Mansfield, played by Joyce Harriman.

During the intermission orchestra selections were played directed by Mrs. Cyrus Stonehill.

Assisting in the production were: Peter Peck, curtain puller; Terry Cray, Judy Walega, Dolores Ferreria, Judy DePina, Joyce Bowman and Ann Bumpus, tickets; Suzanne Lambert, Joyce Avilla, Nancy Corcoran, Nancy Borges and "Cookie" Reed, candy; Susan Hall, Sylvia Hales and Susan Avila, program and David Mc Adams, Michael Renahan, Manuel Santos, Norman Secia, Richard Mandell and Beverly Turner, properties.

BOY SCOUTS MEET

Troop 30 Boy Scouts meet at 6:30 on Friday nights in the Rochester Woman's Clubhouse.

CELEBRATED BIRTHDAY

Mrs. Mary Gayoski of Rochester enjoyed a birthday dinner at her home February 3rd in honor of her 80th birthday. She received a decorated lighted birthday cake made by her granddaughter, Sandra Gayoski. There were 18 members of her family present, and also David Ferron and David Hughes of New Bedford. She enjoys good health, but poor eyesight. She keeps up with the world news from the radio.

CUTTING IN

On the cover - water color and ink drawing by D. Jason of a whaleship cutting in a whale. The try works for boiling out the oil from the blubber is working and the heavy oil smoke rises from the ship. The sails are slack and one is aback as the ship lays to in a calm sea for the operation.

FROM THE LOG OF THE WHALESHIP CHARLESTON BY DANIEL A. BALDWIN ON THE VOYAGE FROM JUNE 28, 1844 to MARCH 9, 1847.

Nov. 5th. Wednesday finds us trying to weather Vauvau in company with the NEPTUNE. Capt. Chester goes on board for a gam. Last night we carried away the jibstay. We spliced it and set the jib. We kill a hog today.

Nov. 6th. Thursday the wind is East. The NEPTUNE is still in company, and Vauvoo (sic) with its hundred Isles is nowhere to be seen.

Adieu bright Isle of the Ocean. Peace to your friendly inhabitants. Vauvoo I should think was 41 or 50 miles in circumference surrounded by many small islands and coral reefs. The harbor of Port Refuge is safe and easy of access. It is the residence of the King of the Friendly Islands. It is an English missionary station and the natives all profess Christianity and many enlightened Nations would do well to follow their example in the observance of its rights. The inhabitants are the most primitive and friendly race that ever I was among. Their moral character will bear a favorable comparison with any other people on earth. Their government is patriarchal. The King is the head of the family. His authority is absolute. He is both preacher and King. All the chiefs seem ambitious to shine as preachers of the Gospel. The King was absent when we were there, and I for the first time was ushered into the presence of royalty being formally introduced to the Queen in her palace of reeds. She was surrounded by her maids busily employed making a lady's work basket. The young Prince royal, heir apparent to the throne, was roaming about in a state of nudity acting like any other spoilt child. He was 18 months old. There was a mat spread for me to sit down. I was treated to some fruit. The Queen is rather a good looking woman verry fleshy and if she is not a kind hearted person her face belies her. This Island is a good place for a ship to stop at to recruit. Anchorage is 5 dollars which must be paid before a ship is allowed to trade any. All traffic is done onboard the ship. Evry thing is very cheap and the best articles to trade with is unbleached cotton cloth, hatchets, axes, knives & etc. Hogs and all kinds of fowls abound here, yams, sweet potatoes, two kinds green corn, onions, cabbages, pineapples, bananas, cocoanuts and all kinds of tropical fruits in abundance. The natives have nothing to do but pluck and eat. Eight yards of cotton sheeting will buy a hog that will weigh 200 pounds. Sugar cane and the finest of cotton, cayenne peppers, mamapples the forbidden fruit, and many other kinds of fruit and vegetables peculiar to the climate abound here in abundance of spontaneous growth. Wood is 2 dollars for a whale boat load cut up by the natives and brought to the beach. There is no ardent spirits bought or sold here. Peace and order reign here. The inhabitants go nearly naked, only a piece of tappa around the waist. This island is rather unhealthy for whites owing to a scarcity of water and that of a poor quality. We had to tow our raft of water 8 miles. The consumption, swellings, ulcers and sores of various kinds and the dysentary seem to be the principal evils that the natives are afflicted with bodily. Hurricanes similar to those in the West Indies visit them occasionally. Aleck or Mr. Blake, an Englishman, told me that there had been none in 4 years. Within 4 years preceding those there were 5 which desolated the Island. There were three English missionaries at this station, Mr. Turner, Mr. Wilson, Mr. C. The two latter had their wives and were in ill health, going soon to New Zealand in the English mission Schooner TRITON of Bristol of about 140 tons.

GIVE TO YOUR HEART FUND

"Premature heart disease can be conquered and degenerative heart disease substantially postponed" if medical science continues its current rate of progress, the Massachusetts Heart Association forecast today.

Ultimately, this will mean "many more years of life for millions of people", the Association declared in its annual report, which covers nine years of discovery unparalleled in the age-old history of man's war on heart disease.

Diseases of the heart and circulation, MHA executive director Charles A. Gates pointed out in releasing the report, annually account for more Mass. deaths than all other causes combined--approximately 54 per cent.

HORNBLOWERS TO PRESENT ANNUAL PLAY

The Hornblowers, the young couples' organization of the St. Gabriel's Church in Marion, put on their first play four years ago, with two performances in the winter and two in the summer of "Arsenic and Old Lace", directed by the Reverend John J. Albert. The success of this play, together with the discovery of other people in Marion with a flair for acting, prompted the Hornblowers' drama group under Mr. Albert's direction to present "You Can't Take It With You" in 1955 and, the following year, "My Three Angels", both of which had winter and summer performances. This year's play, "See How They Run", a comedy by Philip King, is directed by Mr. Hilliard Lubin and will be given on March 1 and 2.

Included in the cast are Alys Nowell as Ida, Peggy Dyer as Miss Skillon, Frantz Warner as Rev. Lionel Toop, Mima Andres as Penelope Toop, Winthrop Baylies as Corp. Clive Winton, Donal Durfee as The Intruder, Rev. Donald Gardner as Bishop of Lax, Ted Babbitt as Rev. Arthur Humphrey and Hilliard Lubin as Sgt. Towers.

Alys Nowell, strictly a local product, was with Kilpatrick Players, did radio, and certainly drank more than Chartreuse in "You Can't Take It With You".

Peggy Dyer was in Paint & Patches at Sweet Briar College, Cranford Dramatic Club in New Jersey, Little Theatre Group of Cranford Junior Service League and Little Theatre Group of Red Bank, doing children's plays.

Frantz Warner came by his at the University of Chicago. He's always running around in his underwear.

Mima Andres, while fairly new to Marion, is not new to the stage. She was with the Children's Series in New York, did television work and summer stock. Gave Olga in "You Can't Take It With You" all she had. Also "first from the right" in Standard-Times "Guys and Dolls".

Winthrop Baylies toured with the Hasty Pudding Show, and was a member of the Lowell House Theatrical Group at Harvard.

Donal Durfee had the lead in High School, wrote a play while at Rhode Island College of Education, was with Thirty Benefit Street Players in Providence. O-O-H! He's so mean in this one.

Rev. Donald Gardner, a member of the dramatic group "Chanticleer", appeared in G.B. Shaw's "Arms and the Man" at Hamilton College. He was co-author and appeared in junior play in Seminary. Plays Bishop of Lax in "See How They Run".

Ted Babbitt - You remember Ted, of course, in "Arsenic and Old Lace". He played the xylophone in "You Can't Take It With You" and plied a poker in "My Three Angels".

Hilliard Lubin is almost a PRO. He was with the Robin Hood Players, and did summer stock in Arden, Del. He did Kholenkhov in "You Can't Take It With You", one of "My Three Angels" (using the term "angels" loosely) and the tough guy in "Guys and Dolls".

Assisting in the backstage production of "See How They Run" will be the following:

Mrs. Parker Converse and Mrs. George Carrington, co-chairmen of patrons and patronesses; Mrs. Donal Durfee and Mrs. Robert Hiller, co-

ON THE COVER

With the Centennial Celebration on the way this picture of Main Street, Mattapoisett will recreate the scene for those of us who are not old time residents. This picture is from the Old Dartmouth Historical Society glass plate collection. The print was given to Miss Dorothy Fox for the Mattapoisett Public Library by Mr. Phillip Purrington, who is curator of the museum. You will recognize this area as being at the top of the wharf, although most of the stately elm trees are now gone.

"LIFE OF RILEY" CONTEST WINNER

Mrs. Dottie Stoddard of East Fairhaven and Mr. Murray DeCoffe of Mattapoisett were awarded their prizes in the Gulf Oil Co. contest on Thursday at DeCoffe's Service Station. They each took possession of a Citreon automobile. Mrs. Stoddard submitted a winning last line to a jingle in the "Life of Riley" contest to win the car. The winning lines have not been announced as yet. Mrs. Stoddard enters contests as a hobby. She thoroughly enjoys them and really works hard on her entries. Previously whe has won a Hotpoint kitchen and many other smaller prizes. Mr. DeCoffe received a duplicate car as local representative of the Gulf Company. A crowd was on hand to see the winners and congratulate them and there was much interest in the cars which are very rare in this area. The highly steamlined prizes were manufactured in France and contain many unusual features which are said to be years advanced. The engine is under the front hood and drives the front wheels. It has 4 forward speeds and travels up to 75 miles per hour in 3rd. Instead of springs the body is hydraulically suspended. Since the body is so very low to the road it contains an unusual feature. It travels low on smooth roads and when a rough road is encountered hydraulic pumps raise the body to a high level. For quick and easy tire changing, hydraulic jacks are built into the body and raise the car at the push of a button. The cars are very unusual and the winners were very happy in receiving them.

EXCHANGE STUDENTS SPEAK AT PTC MEETING

William Matthews presided at the business meeting of the Mattapoisett Parent-Teachers Club held last Thursday night in the school auditorium. A sum of money was appropriated to purchase a tachistoscope for use in the visual training program at the school.

Members appointed to a nominating committee are N. Franklin Harriman, Jr., Mrs. Clifford I. Tripp, Jr. and Anthony Lawrence. The banner for parent attendance was won by Mrs. Martin's 1st grade and will be displayed in their room for one month.

The club will sponsor a junior high school boy at the American Legion Boys State in Amherst in June. An unused scholarship awarded last June and returned will be given to Miss Linda Durfee, a student at Middlebury College in Vermont.

A panel, consisting of exchange students in this area, spoke on customs of their native countries, close relationships of family life at home and of American hospitality. The difference of the cost of education here and in Sweden was expressed by a Swedish boy. All education in Sweden is free through college.

Those on the panel were Kenichi Iido of Yamaguchi, Japan attending Fairhaven High School; Marcel Savary of Lausanne, Switzerlane, attending Dartmouth High and Nils Persson of Horby, Sweden attending New Bedford High. Also Martha and David Titus, twins from Dartmouth, who spent last summer abroad as exchange students. Martha was in Norway and David in Germany. Miss Elizabeth I. Hastings of Fairhaven served as moderator.

I have been a Library Trustee for sixty-three years, and am now running for a twenty second three year term. I was on the School Committee when the first Union was formed with Fairhaven and Acushnet. It now seems likely that we will have to form a new union and perhaps have to join in paying for an expensive new schoolhouse. We should have, on our committee, a man who has good business experience and wide contacts. We are fortunate that Richard Young is willing to serve us. He should be elected. I am writing this without his solicitation or knowledge but am doing it as a "public service".

ROCHESTER GRANGE HAS MEETING

The Rochester Grange celebrated their 51st anniversary at their meeting on Wednesday night, February 13th with officers of the East Freetown Grange filling the chairs. The master, Leah Hayes, presided over the meeting. Mrs. Lois Taylor was in charge of the program and also was the reader as the tableaux were shown. Mrs. Joseph Silveria was the pianist.

Mrs. Marion Hatton sang a solo, "God Bless This Grange" which was followed by the tableaux symbolizing the principles of the grange; solo, "To The Beloved Grange", and the curtains were parted, as the pianist played "The Grand Old Flag", Janice Denault held the flag high with Judy Hartley in a red robe as Charity and Meryden Kirby in blue as Fidelity. Nellie Hartley read the Psalm solo, "My Faith Looks up to Thee". Edith Lizotte then entered as Hope carrying a silver trumpet while Mrs. Alice Sylvaria and Marion Vaughan sang a duet, "Whispering Hope"; followed by the entrance of the three graces dressed in white robes with colored sashes carrying their baskets. They were Florence Taylor as Ceres, Dorothea Hedges as Flora and Lucille Ouellette as Pomona. They were followed by the Harvesters and Gleaners. Marion Vaughan sang "God Bless America" with the Grange joining in the chorus.

Elbridge Cleveland, master of O-ne-set Grange, spoke briefly, and Louis Gurney mentioned last year's anniversary and how impressive it was.

A donation by the Home and Community Service by the chairman, Florence Taylor, was made to the Heart Fund.

The assistants escorted the chaplain, Mrs. Bertha Varney of the Rochester Grange and Ceres, Florence Taylor, to the altar, where white carnations and a lighted white candle were in memory of each of the four deceased past masters and also for Albert Reed who passed away during the past year, who was a charter member.

The two charter members, Mrs. Annie Hartley and Mrs. Lottie Bradford, present were given corsages. A pink carnation and a blue lighted taper were put on for each living past master. The past masters and lecturers were recognized by the Grange.

Seventy-six were present including visitors from West Wareham, Marion, Mattapoisett, O-neset, East Freetown, Wamsutta, South Middleboro and Buzzards Bay.

Refreshments of ice cream, coffee, cup cakes decorated with a candle and made by Mrs. Adeline Gayoski and Marguerite Reed and served by them. A birthday cake, decorated with pink roses on white icing and a gold 51 standing, made by Mrs. Lois Taylor, was cut and served.

The hall was decorated with cupids for Valentine's Day. Marion Hatton read some of Lincoln's famous lines. An orchid plant with 4 lavender blooms, grown by Mrs. Hartley, was on the secretary's table.

At the next meeting the Mattapoisett Juvenile Grange will take over the meeting and put on the entertainment.

HELP YOUR HEART FUND HELP YOUR HEART

Next Sunday is a red-letter day for Massachusetts--Heart Sunday, our annual opportunity to strike a blow against the diseases which account for more than half of our deaths.

In Massachusetts there is a pool of about 300,000 heart patients. Each year, approximately 28,000 die and the same number of younger persons become heart patients. This is by far our first health problem, and one which cries out for nothing less than full-scale attack.

On Sunday, a Heart Nieghbor will visit your home to accept your Heart Fund contribution. In past years our Heart gifts have helped bring rheumatic fever, the scourge of childhood, under control, have made it possible to operate on the living heart, have found whole families of new medicines and techniques with which to handle diseases of the heart and circulation. Yesterday's heart research has insured longer lives for many of us today.

In laboratories supported by the Massachusetts and American Heart Associations science is coming ever closer to solution of many heart ills; in schools and homes and hospitals, Heart Fund knowledge is paying big dividends. Let us not only keep up the pace, but speed up the pace of our common effort against heart disease. Let us give generously, each according to his means, for longer, healthier lives.

Sunday is your chance for a lifetime. Don't miss it.

I have been a Library Trustee for sixty-three years, and am now running for a twenty-second three year term. I was on the School Committee when the first Union was formed with Fairhaven and Acushnet. It now seems likely that we will have to form a new union and perhaps have to join in paying for an expensive new schoolhouse. We should have, on our committee, a man who has good business experience and wide contacts. We are fortunate that Richard Young is willing to serve us. He should be elected. I am writing this without his solicitation or knowledge but am doing it as a "public service".

DRY CLEANING & SHOE REPAIR
FLATWORK - INVISIBLE WEAVING - DRY CLEANING

FROM THE LOG OF THE WHALESHIP CHARLESTON BY DANIEL A. BALDWIN ON THE VOYAGE FROM JUNE 28, 1844 to MARCH 9, 1847.

Nov. 7th. Friday we have another Gam with the NEPTUNE. Capt. Oat comes onboard of us. This day we turn up some of our Boats to overhaul their bottoms.

Nov. 8th. Saturday we have pleasant Gales from S.E. At daylight there is a bark in sight standing as we are. This night at 5 we saw a shoal of Humpbacks. The Bark ran off and spoke the NEPTUNE. She took in sail at sunset which denotes she is cruising for sperm and on the ground.

Nov. 9th. Sunday the wind is moderate from E.S.E. We bend a new maintopsail. This day some of the Boat Steerers find fault to Capt. Chester about their victuals. They grumble without cause and have had their own way too much. Capt. Chester told them a strong lecture such as would have done good many times before. We Gamed with the NEPTUNE of New London, sperm whaler, 8 mos out with 180 barrels. At sunset we saw another sail.

Nov. 10th. Monday pleasant weather continues. At sunrise we saw a large Ship to wind supposed to be a sperm whaler.

Nov. 11th. Tuesday we have moderate Gales from the South. The NEPTUNE is almost out of sight astern. We tack ship at 3 P.M. She heads E.S.E. Wind S. We tack three times today.

Nov. 12th. Wednesday we have strong Gales from South and tack ship occasionally. We have beat to windward out of sight of the NEPTUNE in 2 days. Oliver Darrow is sick with bad swelling on the leg that came on him in Vauvoo. C. Shepherd is sick with the Ague in the face.

Nov. 13th. Thursday the wind veers in the NEPTUNES favor and she overtakes us again. We have another Gam. At 5 P.M. we saw a Shoal of small sperm whale. We lowered but they were a going to the Northward and westward faster than a boat could pull.

Nov. 14th. Friday the NEPTUNE is still hovering near. The weather is getting cool so that I feel the need of stockings and drawers. We saw an Albatross today.

Nov. 15th. Saturday the wind is S.S.W. We begin to have hopes of falling in with right whale soon. The NEPTUNE at 4 P.M. is not in sight from deck but a long way astern. We overhaul our mainstays and send down our fore royal yard.

Nov. 16th. Sunday is a beautiful day. It is calm a part of the day. We do various jobs.

At noon there is a bright star in sight 20 degrees to the Eastward of the sun.

Nov. 17th. Monday begins with light airs from N.E. Course S.S.E. At daylight we set the topmast studding sail. A fair wind is a rare thing with us. We set up our bobstays today.

Nov. 18th. Tuesday we have a fresh breeze from N. We repair topgallant sails and long to see a forked spout. This night at 6 P.M. we have all sail on the ship. The wind is increasing to a Gale. At 7 we put the ship under single reefed topsails. At half past 8 the storm howls wildly. While clewing down the foretopsail to reef it the man at the wheel let the ship come to. Away went the slings of the maintopsail yard. Down came the yard with a crash. Clew down and clew up was the order of the Capt. I helped furl the foretopsail and foresail and while trying to smother the maintopsail and furl it a large iron link struck me on the head and knocked what little sense out there was in it, and came verry near sending me on that journey whence no man returns. I immediately thought of my wife and little ones and my far off home. After securing the yard we hove the ship to under a main spencer. The gale moderates during the night.

Nov. 19th. Wednesday at daylight we make sail. Wind W.S.W. We send down the maintopsail yard to put new jaws to it and repair damages. At 6 P.M. we set the maintopsail again.

Nov. 20th. Thursday we have fresh gales from W.S.W with squalls of rain occasionally. This night the wind blows heavy. We double reef the topsails. The wind moans sadly over

Mattapoisett, Massachusetts
February 28, 1957

To the Citizens of Mattapoisett:

When you go to the polls on March 5, 1957, I hope very much that you will vote for me, for membership on the School Committee.

You probably know that Mrs. Rita Dunn is not a candidate this year and I believe you will agree with me that the woman's viewpoint is especially important on this particular Committee.

The Church, the Home, and the School are called the corner-stones of free government. In these institutions, the influence of women and men, working together, has brought about results in educational lines, which have given our country world-wide renown.

I have lived in Mattapoisett the past thirty-eight years, and I have always been interested in the workings of the school-system, especially since becoming a parent.

I have the time to devote to the various duties involved, and my sole purpose in seeking the office is a sincere desire to serve the best interests of all parties concerned, in the tremendous job of furnishing the best possible educational advantages for our school children.

If elected, I pledge conscientious effort to perform, to the best of my ability, all services pertaining to the office.

Sincerely,

MYRTLE E. SPAGNOLI

FELLOWSHIP SPONSOR SUPPER

The Senior Pilgrim Fellowship of the First Congregational Church of Rochester sponsored a supper on March 2nd in the vestry. The committee was comprised of Joyce Rogers and John MacGregor with Mrs. William Warburton, chairman over-all. Profit from this supper is to be added to the fund for the trip to New York City during the spring vacation from school.

HORNBLOWERS PRESENT PLAY

"See How They Run", a farce in 3 acts by Philip King, was presented by the Hornblowers of St. Gabriel Episcopal Church of Marion on March 1st and 2nd in the VFW Hall in Marion. The Hornblowers assembled a talented group to stage this hilarious comedy to the delight of an appreciative audience. The story, concerning the misadventures of the vicar of Merton Cum-Middlewick and his attractive wife (a former actress), is a fast moving romp when brought to life by the Marion group.

The scene takes place in the living room of the vicar, and opens with the Rev. Lionel Toop, the vicar, being grilled by the tightly stayed and straight laced parishioner, Miss Skillon on the subject of who is to decorate the pulpit for the forthcoming harvest services. As the plot thickens the vicar is removed from the scene for the evening, and Mrs. Toop is visited by an actor acquaintance now with the U. S. Air Force. Their reenactment of a scene from a play that they toured with is seen by Miss Skillon who thinks the antics are for real. Miss Skillon proceeds to drown her deliciously scandalous knowledge in cooking sherry and gets thoroughly "potted". The vicar arrives home to find Miss Skillon drunk on his sofa. The vicar is attacked by an escaped communist from a local prison who takes the vicar's clothes. In the meantime the Bishop of Lax, Mrs. Toop's uncle arrives, Mrs. Toop and Corp. Clive Winton, the actor, return home from attending a play, the Corporal in a borrowed suit from the Vicar, and the Rev. Arthur Humphrey arrives to preach the next morning's sermon. The evening's high jinx reach a very funny climax. There is a prolonged chase in the garden and through the living room, and a closet that is in constant occupation mostly by a limp Miss Skillon. Most of all there is an evening of good fun in which the audience and players enjoyed every single minute.

Mr. Hilliard Lubin did an admirable job of direction and also had a small part that of Sergeant Towers who arrives to arrest the escaped communist.

Ida, the maid, makes many frequent appearances and delights the audience with her cockney accent. She plays a large part in the capture of the communist.

The Cast:

Ida (a maid)	Alys Nowell
Miss Skillon	Margery Dyer
The Reverend Lionel Toop	Frantz Warner

We were glad to welcome a new friend to our class this week - Joan Musschoot.

Mrs. Morgan's room helpers for the week were Corrine Lawrence, Everett Macomber, Jane Morrell, Jo-Ann Bessette, August Mandeville, Brenda Lopes and Stephen Souza. The patrol boy and girl for the week were David Roderick and Shirley Breakell.

Mrs. Morgan's children put some shrimp eggs in a gallon of ocean water and watched them hatch into baby shrimp. Robert Sherman, Alan Apperson and Jo-Ann Bessette showed them to some of the other rooms and explained how they hatched the eggs.

This first grade class has two new turtles named Stripy and Red Ears. At night they keep a light on them so that they can sun themselves on the rock in the aquarium.

THANK YOU

plained that certain basic rules should be followed so that the final result will be pleasing to the eye. One should first strip the flowers and then follow a definite pattern, taking into consideration where the arrangement is to be placed and type of container to be used. "Do not crowd flowers when arranging," said Mrs. Lionberger. "And follow in most cases the rule of using flowers one and one-half times the height of the container". A clever arrangement of dried flowers was used which incorporated the triangular symbolism of heaven, earth and man. A second arrangement suitable for a dinner table was done with geraniums and a third was arranged in a pewter pitcher, employing fern, phlox and portulaca. With spring just around the corner, the program will no doubt serve as an inspiration for many attractive floral bouquets and centerpieces.

At the business meeting which followed the program, it was announced by the president, Mrs. Frank Howland, that Mrs. Anthony Tarvers, the First District Director, will be in Rochester as a guest at the meeting on April 2nd. On April 8, President's Day will be observed at the Nautilus Club in Providence. Preceding the coffee hour at the Nautilus Club, there will be a round table discussion at the home of Mrs. Tarvers. Mrs. Howland is planning to attend.

Members are looking forward to a hobby and collection show which is planned for sometime in the spring. A date will soon by announced by the executive board. Mrs. Merton Hartley is chairman and the officers will be her committee. We have heard through the grapevine that many Rochester residents have some unique and beautiful collections and interesting hobbies and we hope that they will come forth and share these with everyone at our show.

Of interest to club members was a letter received from the Mattapoisett Woman's Club telling of their coming event, "Spring Fashions", presented by Cherry & Company. This will benefit their scholarship fund and will be held at the Center School on March 21st at 8:00 P.M. Anyone interested in tickets should contact Mrs. Anthony Pelson at Skyline 8-2093 or Mrs. Thomas Renahan at Sk 8-2362.

A nominating committee was chosen and will report at the next meeting. They are Mrs. Greenwood Hartley, chairman, Mrs. Ward Benner and Mrs. Henry Hartley.

Mrs. Henry Smith was elected chairman of the program committee for the coming year. Two members will be asked to serve on this committee.

Mrs. Edith Hellyer of North Avenue was welcomed into the club as a new member.

A note was read from the co-chairman of Volunteers for Tobey Hospital, Mrs. Arthur Lionberger, expressing thanks for the tray favors which were sent to the hospital for Washington's Birthday. These were made by Mrs. Arthur Kirby.

Members were very sorry to hear that Mrs. Roger Wood has been quite ill at her home.

Mrs. Greenwood Hartley announced that the food sale held at the Star Store on February 14 was very successful. Mrs. Timothy O'Brien was in charge of solicitations and Mrs. Abraham Jackson served with Mrs. Hartley at the sale.

IN THE ROCHESTER LEAGUE AT BOWL-MOR ALLEYS

The Firemen, led by William Martin's 325 still hold the lead in the second half, with a 3 point win over the Hartley Saw Mill Co. Ralph Gurney's 308 was high for the Hartley's.

Rounseville Saw Mill (Arnold Jefferson, Jr. 326) split 2 & 2 with Bettencourt's Market (Dick Nolan 334) in a very close match.

Led by Stanley Decker's 331, Herb's T.V. Shop took 3 from D. Mahoney & Sons, whose high man was Robert Jefferson with 310.

Rufus Ellis, by a super-human effort, led his team, the Gibb's Farm Dairy, with a score of 289, (he really tried) to a 3 point loss to Hartley's Garage, whose high man was Eddie Swift with 314.

Arnold Jefferson, Jr.'s 324 led the Rounseville Saw Mill to a 3 point win over Herb's T.V. Shop, whose high man was William Scott with 345. This win put the Rounsevilles in a tie for first place, in the second half, with the Firemen.

Although Edw. Graham's 365 was high for the night, his team, Bettencourt's Market dropped 3 to Hartley's Garage (Edgar O'Neil, Jr. 327).

Hartley Saw Mill Co. (Leo Lizotte 309) took 3 from D. Mahoney & Sons (Edw. Arruda 298).

Well, he did it again, Rufus Ellis' 353 (nice going "Guffy" keep it up) led the Gibbs Farm Dairy to a 3 point win over the Firemen. Pardon Gibbs' 325 was high for the Firemen.

HOME FROM HOSPITAL

Raymond Lawrence of Marion Road, Rochester has returned home from St. Luke's Hospital, New Bedford after being a surgical patient there.

Ponti and Jane Wordell.

Mrs. Morgan's class had an exhibit in the Science Fair. They showed their baby shrimp and their turtles. Robert Sherman, Jo-Anne Bessette, and Alan Apperson explained how the class raised the shrimp and how they are trying to keep them alive until they get to be an inch long. Mark Chase explained about the turtles. David Bradley showed his cocoons and August Mandeville showed his cars.

The children in this class had a great thrill Thursday when a bird came to their feeding station during school time and they had a chance to sit quietly and watch him eat.

In Mrs. Pallatroni's second grade: We drew lilies this week for art; we also made a border characterizing the song "MacNamara's Band". Paul Moore brought in some flowers in a seed dish, which we will watch grow daily. Helpers for last week were Donna Seeley, Doris Fearing, Alan Perkins, Sally Hiller, Diane Macedo, Patricia Moss and Joanne Pierce.

ANY DOGS THAT ARE SEEN ON THE CENTER SCHOOL GROUNDS DURING SCHOOL HOURS WILL HAVE TO BE REPORTED TO THE POLICE.

The children in Mrs. Ford's fourth grade learned new steps in long division last week.

FROM THE LOG OF THE WHALESHIP CHARLESTON BY DANIEL A. BALDWIN ON THE VOYAGE FROM JUNE 28, 1844 to MARCH 9, 1847.

December, 1845 off New Zealand

Dec. 1st. Monday the weather moderates. At 2 P.M. we make sail and speak the HENRY LEE. She has 200 bbls and just from home. Capt. Chester went onboard and got some papers. We pass a ship boiling.

Dec. 2nd. Tuesday the wind is N.N.W. Rain the most of the day. Pleasant middle part. Saw one finback and a sail.

Dec. 3rd, Wednesday. Today the wind is S.E. with fog and haze. The sea is quiet. At 4 P.M. we saw a right whale. The two Quarter Boats went on to him at one time and frightene him. Mr. Lyons fastened partially. If one boat had hove up the other had got fast. There is no justice here.

Dec 4th. Thursday the wind is west and light till noon, then fresh from North. At 9 we saw 4 whales. They were going fast to the S.W. We tried them but did not get fast. We chased them with the ship and at noon gave them another stir up. We saw a sail this morning to enliven the solitary scene around us.

Dec. 5th. Friday begins with a gale and rain from the North. We did not make sail this morning. At 1 P.M. it moderates and the wind veers to the West. We make sail with pleasant weather. We again spoke the HENRY LEE of Sag Harbor. Capt. Chester goes on-

Dec. 6th. Saturday the wind is fresh from N.W. We saw 4 whale and lowered twice. They were going to the southward and eastward. We got none. We again spoke the HENRY LEE. She saw two.

Dec. 7th. Sunday the wind is N.W. Fresh gales with some rain. No whale in sight.

Dec. 8th. Monday the most of the day we have fresh gales from NW and West. Toward night we saw two whale going fast to the northward and eastward. The day ends with light airs from the North.

CENTENNIAL EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE MEET

A meeting of the Centenial Executive Committee was held on Tuesday night, March 19th, and the following information reported: a contract has been signed for fireworks for the Centennial Celebration.

Mr. Charles Dexter has accepted the chairmanship of a sub-committee to arrange for the square dance to be held on Saturday night of Centennial Week. There will be no admission charged at this dance and the committee will arrange for orchestra and several well known "callers" to be present.

A delegation from the committee has made contact with the committee in charge of the Plymouth celebration and a report that the "shallop" to be used in the Plymouth celebration will come to Mattapoisett some time during the week. We have hopes that it will be on Saturday and that those coming with it will take part in the parade.

Progress is being made on the booklet to be published and this will definitely be ready for distribution on July 1, 1957. The Mattapoisett Couples Club has been asked and has accepted the project of selling the advertising for the book.

A request from the combined boy and girl scout troops of the town including the Mariners that they be allowed to sell tonic during the week was read. It was agreed that the committee had no objection to this as it was felt to be a very worthwhile project.

The parade committee reported that they have had several meetings and have already received several entries for the parade. Invitations to act as parade judges have been extended to the Chairman of Selectmen from week were Joan Musschoot, Guy Verfaille, Brian Hopkins, June Warburton, Stephen Dexter, James Macomber and Susan Reynard.

We are trying to look for something beautiful in our world which other people might find hard to see sometimes. The day of the storm, David Helfand spoke of the "smoothness of the basement walls"; Carolyn Lewis liked the softness of her band-aid. We noticed the old church roof across the street with the snow on it. Jeffrey Chase noticed a white streak down the middle of a telephone pole.

We have some rooted carrots which are growing fast. This week we noticed some shoots coming up from our parsley plants. The forsythia blossoms have dropped off now and green leaves have come out.

Penny Denham brought in a little yellow fish she found in a fresh water pond. We are watching it closely. We have fed it Pablum.

Guy Verfaille brought in some daffodil and and tulip bulbs for us to plant and watch grow.

Two weeks ago, Miss Cosman's second grade went to the post office, and saw all the things that they had learned about in school. When we came back we wrote thank you letters to Mrs. Corey and Mr. Figueiredo.

Now we are learning about firemen. We hope we can go to the fire station too.

We have planted carrot seeds in two ways. We want to see if they come up better when they are planted neatly or if they do better when the seeds are just "thrown in".

Duncan Power's name has been added to the eighth grade honor roll for the January-February term.

The boys and girls in Mr. MacLaughlin's fourth grade class were introduced to pen pals. A total of sixteen pen pal letters have been written already. The children are, therefore, combining penmanship with language.

Celia Purrington was chosen as girl patrol for the rest of the school year. She replaces Ricki Troy who has served as patrol for the first half of the year.

In arithmetic this week, the class completed work on long division. They are now working on fractions and "parts of whole things".

The Mattapoisett Center School Boys' Basketball Team has completed its 56-57 schedule with a record of 11-4. It finished second in the Cranberry Junior High School League with a record of 8-2. Tabor Academy won the league with a 10-0 record.

STYLE SHOW SHOWS SPRING AND SUMMER FASHIONS

"Suddenly It's Spring", and I'm sure the audience agreed that Spring had arrived when a number of Spring and Summer outfits were modeled at the style show last Thursday night at the Center School auditorium, sponsored by the Mattapoisett Woman's Club. Proceeds will benefit the Scholarship fund.

A welcome was extended to all by Mrs. Howard H. Smith, president and honorary chairman. Mrs. Thomas Renahan, co-chairman with Mrs. Anthony J. Pelson, introduced Mrs. Bessie Twohig, commentator, who spoke briefly on spring fashions and colors before the models appeared.

Many different and unique outfits were shown as the models entered through a white picket fence banked with spring flowers and pussy willows for a lovely setting and most effective.

The latest in coats, suits, sportswear, daytime and evening wear from Cherry & Co. were shown.

Navy is again one of the popular colors along with the neutral shades and tweeds. Black patent shoes and bags are very popular and denote Spring. Large picture hats adorned with flowers and straws in many beautiful spring shades were also shown.

Modeling were Mrs. Dean Doran, Mrs. Frederic E. Reynard, Mrs. Albert D. Furnans, Mrs. Lawrence C. Young, Mrs. John Murphy and Miss Dorothy Fox. Mrs. Grant Faber modeled maternity clothes.

Junior styles were modeled by Miss Sharon Brady, Miss Patricia Kelley and Miss Anne Fitzgerald of the Girl's Club.

WOMEN'S GUILD AND MEN'S CLUB TO HAVE COMBINED MEETING

The Women's Community Guild and the Men's Club of the Mattapoisett Congregational Church will have a combined guest night meeting, Tuesday, April 2nd, in the vestry at 8 o'clock.

A most interesting program has been planned for all those who are interested. Dr. Norris D. Hoyt, chairman of the English Department at St. George's School in Newport, Rhode Island, where he is also in charge of the swimming, sailing and photographic programs, will be the guest speaker.

Dr. Hoyt's slides and running commentary on his 1956 tour will give you a picture of a sailor's life, afloat and ashore, almost as pleasurable as doing it yourself. In the summer of 1956 he sailed on KAY, a 50' Sparkman and Stevens yawl owned by Sven Frisell, of Goteborg, Sweden and London, England, to Bermuda, and thence to Sweden, where he stayed for a while in the Frisell's summer home,

DON KENT, WEATHERMAN, ENTERTAINS AT WOMAN'S CLUB GUEST NIGHT MEETING

A very large and interested group of members of the Mattapoisett Woman's Club and their guests were entertained by weatherman Don Kent of Radio and Television Station WBZ, Boston, on Thursday night at the Congregational Church vestry. We were fortunate that Mr. Kent arrived at all for he kidded himself for becoming lost in the fog after reaching New Bedford and landing in Rochester. It is not hard even for some of our local people to become lost in Rochester, but fortunately Mr. Kent realized his error and was able to reach New Bedford again and from there to Mattapoisett.

It is always a rewarding experience to hear a personality who knows his subject, likes it well and can project it to an audience in an informal and interesting way. Don Kent explained that he has 3 main hobbies, namely weather, sailing and fishing. He is one of the fortunate men who can earn a living doing what he likes to do most. He is one of the few TV weathermen who is a professional analyzer and forecaster and not just an announcer. It is very fortunate that Mr. Kent does like his job for it starts at 4:15 A.M. when his alarm goes off. His early morning forecast is so up to date that he said that the information that he needs to make it is still coming in right up to the time that he goes on the air. After hearing him talk and seeing the colored movies that he has taken it is easy to see why he is in demand to appear before groups in the evenings, but it is not easy to understand how he can get up with the sunrise the next day.

The colored movies were varied. Some were of late storms which occurred at about this time of the year containing many very beautiful wet snow storms. As an example of the varied weather conditions over this New England territory between Cape Cod and Boston, some films taken on the same day showed the Boston area completely stopped with a blizzard and the Cape Cod area basking in sunshine. Mr. Kent cited this as one of the problems of the weather man in this area, and also one of the challenges that make the job so interesting here. Some very fine shots of views on and about Mt. Washington showed the unusual rime ice formations that coat every solid object on the top of the mountain. It was explained that clouds contain drops of moisture that are chilled far below the freezing point that turn to ice instantly on contact with a solid of any kind. This weather station on Mt. Washington is one of the most important in the United States, but the only thing to recommend the duty there is the good TV reception for the pay is low and the weather is terrible for so many months of the year. The men can be relieved at the present time because of the addition of a snow cat truck to the base. Before that arrived they were snowed in from early fall to late spring.

Another point that was interesting that Mr. Kent explained was long range forecasts. No scientific system has been devised at this time to predict advanced weather. This is in spite of recently published claims that it will soon be possible to predict weather into the years 2000. Many theories are being tested, some using sun sport and some electronic brains and some high level jet stream currents but so far no method has proved at all accurate. So many variables are present that the forecaster has his hands full with tommorrow's weather.

Don Kent's T. V. Station Channel 4 will soon dedicate its new tower which will mean very good local reception. After meeting him, our interest here will be doubled and our local people will be glad of the station's new power that will enable us to tune in on his programs and see them well.

Mr. Kent was introduced by Mrs. Howard H. Smith, president of the club, who also welcomed members and their guests. Mrs. Smith read a letter inviting members of the club to attend a meeting of the Fairhaven Mothers Club on Tuesday, April 16th. A thank you note was also read from Mrs. E. R. Coates of Dartmouth who was awarded a muskrat cape stole at the Fashion Show held last week. The stole was shown by Mrs. Smith. Mrs. Grace Engesser gave the invocation.

Mrs. John B. Reed and Mrs. Charles Mac Laughlin poured at the tea table which had as its centerpiece a lovely bouquet of spring flowers. The executive board were hostesses under the direction of Mrs. Marshall Ross, tea chairman.

POINT RAISED IN EMINENT DOMAIN QUESTION

You will recall that the last Mattapoisett Town Meeting, Article #45 was indefinitely postponed in order to allow time for facts and legal advice to be gathered so that the voters' questions could be answered. This article concerns the taking of the RR right of way, by eminent domain, between the Fairhaven and Marion lines bordering Mattapoisett.

Two of the more pressing reasons for the proposal are: #1, a paved road was built connecting North Street to the new town dump along the RR roadbed. Since the town of Mattapoisett does not own this land the road and the dump has not and cannot be used until it does. #2, beach property owned by Mattapoisett between Goodspeed Island and the Shining Tides property. The town owns two plots of beach front which is separated by land claimed by the Reservation Golf course. The town seeks to connect its two plots by means of a right of way along the RR roadbed.

The article is opposed by owners of the Reservation Golf Club and their case was given at the town meeting, you will recall. A lawyer from New Bedford, who donated his time and service, was present with photostatic copies of deeds and grants and he brought up legal questions, concerning ownership of the RR roadbed at this time.

Mr. George White presented the case for the article. However, a serious doubt developed when the legal points raised by the council speaking in opposition were not answered. The voters then voted to indefinitely postpone the article vote until such time as the Selectmen could gather facts and obtain legal advice so that the townspeople's questions could by answered.

We have a statement given to us be Mattapoisett Assessor Mr. Enoch LeBaron Winslow. He has been studying deeds concerned and feels that he has uncovered information that will prove of value when this article comes up for vote.

We quote from Mr. Winslow's statement,as follows:

"Article in the Annual Town Meeting to see if the Town will take over the Rail Road location and rights.

"As a life long citizen of Mattapoisett, I have seen a good many changes come to our Town, all for our benefit and feel that the way should be clear to continue.

"The deed from Mr. Hammond to the Reservation Golf Club, copy below states that the part occupied by the R. R. was eliminated, also the part owned by the Town was eliminated from deed for a road.

much of the land as is occupied by the Fairhaven R. R., and also so much of the land as was taken by the Town of Mattapoisett in laying out the Reservation Road a public way.

"Under the circumstances the ownership seems to be of a question, and the Board of Assessors have never assessed the land to anyone but the Rail Road Co. Taxes paid by them. Statements have been made otherwise. I would think, to find out the real owners same would have to go through land court and would take a good deal of time and expense. Such action and expense would not be on the part of the Town.

"The only monies anyone could receive under eminent domain would be very small due to a very small assessment on land now in question. The whole layout is of very little assess value.

"As a voter, I hope that you will think this matter over and be on hand when this matter comes before a later Town Meeting, as it seems very important to the Town as to its future use.

Enoch LeBaron Winslow"

ROCHESTER WOMAN'S CLUB HEARS "ANIMAL LADY"

"Let's Talk About Animals" was the title of Mrs. Beth Chollar's talk at the Rochester Woman's Club on Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. Chollar explained her work as Director of the Education and Social Service Department, and said that she is the only social service worker for animals in the United States. Her work consists mostly of visiting homes where animals have been placed from the League and helping the new owners with problems of care and feeding. Her radio program, "The Animal Lady", is heard on Thursdays at 11:45 over WNBH. Members were delighted with her description of the various characteristics of animals as compared with the human family and she spoke of the confusion that exists as to the thinking and instinctive actions of animals and gave examples of each. Mrs. Chollar also spoke in detail on the Pound Bill.

Mrs. Anthony P. Tarvers, First District Director of the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs, was a guest at this meeting and was accompanied by a friend, Mrs. George E. Stegner, both of Provincetown, Mass. Mrs. Tarvers spoke of the valuable work that Women's Clubs are doing and mentioned some of the coming events. She is a woman of wide interests and enjoys several hobbies which include painting and rug hooking.

A luncheon was served at 12:30. Spring flowers were used in a low centerpiece.

Mrs. Frank P. Howland presided over the business meeting.

The chairman of the nominating committee, Mrs. Greenwood Hartley, brought in the slate of officers for the 1957-58 season. The following members have agreed to serve: Mrs.

MATTAPOISETT GUILD AND MEN'S CLUB PRESENT PROGRAM

A very large audience of members and guests of the combined guest night of the Women's Community Guild and the Men's Club of the Mattapoisett Congregational Church were entertained on Tuesday night. Mrs. Frederic E. Reynard, president of the Guild, welcomed members and guests, and then Mr. William J. Spark, Jr., vice-president of the Men's Club, introduced the speaker.

The speaker was Dr. Norris D. Hoyt, chairman of the English department at St. George School for boys in Newport, Rhode Island. Dr. Hoyt showed colored slides as he related his experiences of last summer when he took part in the New York to Bermude yacht races. He told in a very amusing manner of every part of the trip from the time that he rode the garbage scow out to the boats to ask for a place in the crews. He was trying for a place on the BOLERO which was the eventual winner of the race, but wound up on the yawl, KAY, which was bound for Sweden after the race. Since he agreed to make the trip all the way to Sweden it was decided that his wife would make a trip across the United States with the children and that he would join her from Europe and drive back with them. The pictures taken at sea both on the race and later as the yawl headed across the Atlantic were both remarkable and very beautiful. The shots were taken in sequence so that the audience could see the whole trip unfold as it happened. Some very wild weather was encountered and this makes the pictures remarkable. On a boat of the Kay's size, the picture photographer had to contend with both a wet and unstable deck. An interesting picture showed two right whales which the boat encountered in mid-Atlantic. If the whales hadn't been sighted in time for the yawl to sail around them it would have been rammed. The whales continue on a perfectly straight course apparently disregarding anything that stands in their way, like the titanic beasts that they are. Another picture taken at a later time showed the carcass of a whale which had apparently disputed the right of way with a liner of some kind. The whale was floating dead on the surface with a great gash in its side which marked the place which his course and that of the ship had crossed. Dr. Hoyt described the BBC as being so dull that the crew made the mistake of leaving England without a weather report. They hated to have to suffer through the program waiting for the weather man, so it being a fine day they put to sea for Sweden. The yawl sailed shortly into the much publicized gale of last summer which sank many large vessels. At times, sailing under bare poles, the yawl made incredible speed and proved staunch enough to weather the great storm pictured in all its fury on Dr. Hoyt's colored slides. He described the Swedish people's appetite for the sea by showing pictures of the crew out on a sail on the day after returning home from a 28-day voyage. In that time he said $4,000. worth of dacron sails were blown to ribbons which is an indication of the kind of weather encountered. After leaving Sweden Dr. Hoyt flew to join his family in Los Angeles. The trip from there to Newport, R. I., by way of U. S. and Canadian National Parks and lakes, was made in a Volkswagon bus.

Although compared to U. S. station wagons, the bus is small in size it is very large inside. With a 37 HP engine Dr. Hoyt estimated that he was carrying 1500 lbs of people and cargo through every driving condition. He described it as a gallant little car. The adventures of the family as they traveled across country were also shown on slides. The National Parks shown, such as Yellowstone and Grand Canyon, not only are spectacular but the cost was very little to stay in their campsites. The National Parks of Canada can be enjoyed for a fee of $3. per year which included all parks. The trip from Lake Louise in Canada was made by the family in about 4 days to allow Dr. Hoyt to join another race crew. He mentioned that some of his pictures taken on his trip to Sweden were made for Life magazine. It will be interesting to see them.

A coffee and social hour followed the program. Mrs. Reynard and Mrs. George Eldridge poured at the coffee table which had as its centerpiece a bouquet of spring flowers. Mrs. Clifton Hatton and Mrs. Wilfred Moss, co-hostesses, were assisted by Mrs. Oliver Harrison, Mrs. Albert Pemberton, Mrs. Robert Townsend, John Atkinson, David C. Moore, Mr. Reynard and Francis C. Rowland.

Committee arranging the program comprised Mrs. Horace Darrah, Mrs. Marshall Ross, George C. Bradley, Jr., Paul J. Bradley, Edward Andreasen, William Croft and Richard B. Young.

Greeters were Mr. and Mrs. Allen Sherman.

MATTAPOISETT CENTER SCHOOL NEWS
April 8, 1957

Helpers for Mrs. Martin's first grade last week were Michael Collyer, Faith Perkins, Lawrence Smith, Anne Silsby, Jeffrey Chase, Edward Francis and Deborah Saunders.

This week we are making an egg tree. Almost everyone brought one or more eggs, in which our mothers had punctured a hole with a pin and blown out the yolk and the white. Then each child either painted or dyed an egg. Now we have them hung on branches of a tree that Mrs. Martin found. We have it on our big table. Later we will put on crepe paper leaves.

The boys and girls in Mr. MacLaughlin's fourth grade class were very enthusiastic a-

FROM THE LOG OF THE WHALESHIP CHARLESTON BY DANIEL A. BALDWIN ON THE VOYAGE FROM JUNE 28, 1844 to MARCH 9, 1847.

Dec. 17th. Wednesday the wind is strong from N.N.W. with fog the most of the day and some rain. We carried sail last night and took in today. At 11 A.M. we finish boiling our sperm whale and cool down at 9 this night. If we had saved the whole it would have made 70 barrels. We shall get not 45 bbls. No observation.

Dec. 18th. Thursday the wind is N.N.W. with rain. In the morning we have fresh gales and a verry rough sea. At 4 P.M. we saw a gam of 5 whales 1 mile to windward. Three boats lower and strike one. He sounded one line and a half. When he came up another boat got fast. Soon after one iron broke and the others came out and the whale went off. These whales were lying still. Two or three boats might have got fast and we might have got one or two if the sea had been smoother.

Dec. 19th, Friday. This morning it blows a gale from the North. We close reef the main-topsail and furl the foresail. In the afternoon it veers 2 points W. We make no sail today.

Dec. 20th. Saturday the gale continues with squalls of rain from N.W. and W.N.W. We set the foresail. There is a heavy sea running.

Dec. 21st, Sunday. This morning was more moderate. We make sail and saw a ship to windward. The wind increases and blows strong from W.N.W. The ship is under double reefed topsails, the sea uneasy.

Dec. 22nd, Monday. We carried sail last night. Today there is a gale from the West with heavy squalls and some rain. This morning at 7 our foretopsail split. We take in sail and heave to. At 6 P.M. we bend a new foretopsail and furl it. The weather is not much better. The sea is in an angry mood lashed by the unchained wind.

Dec. 23rd. Tuesday we have fresh gales from the West till night, then more moderate. There is nothing but a wilderness of waters.

Dec. 24th. Wednesday we have light airs from the Northward and Eastward till afternoon when it blows a gale from E.S.W. We take in the maintopsail and double reef the fore and main and steer off N.N.W. with a plenty of wind and rain. There is a wild night before us and two watches for me in the lee scuppers. The weather moderates and the wind veers round N.W. at 10 P.M.

Dec. 25th. Thursday we have fresh gales from N.W. and W. The ship has as much as she wants with double reefed topsails. At 4 P.M. we take in the jib and mainsail. At 6 P.M. we take in the foretopsail and mizzen, furl the foresail. The ocean is all white with the foam of the waves lashed on to fury by the heaviest gale we have had at the South this season.

Dec. 26th. Friday is more moderate. We carry double reefed topsails to a strong gale. This day completes one year and a half from home.

Dec. 27th. Saturday we have strong gales from N.W. and the ship under double reefed topsails till 4 P.M. Then more moderate. We shake out reefs and set the topgallant sails.

Dec. 28th, Sunday. Last night there was light airs from West to Northeast. Today is verry pleasant with a moderate breeze from Dec. 29th. Monday we have light airs from N.N.E. with fog a part of the day and pleasant all day. We unbend our maintopsail and bend an old one in its stead and rip up an old mizzen topsail and begin to repair sails. We kill another hog today.

Dec. 30th. Tuesday the wind is light from the East. We repair sails and bend the flying jib and set the foretopmast studdingsail.

Dec. 31st. Wednesday we have light airs from the East and continue to repair old sails. The solitary scene around us is not cheered by any unusual object today.

LAWN TIPS FROM THE PLYMOUTH COUNTY EXTENSION SERVICE

"If you aren't satisfied with your lawn why not try feeding before digging it up and reseeding," suggest Dominic Marini of the Plymouth County Extension Service.

"Starvation is the chief cause of lawn failure," he says. "Reseeding will not correct this condition and the lawn will soon look just as bad as it did before unless the basic causes of failure are corrected. Any lawn area having 40 percent or more of basic grasses can be improved and brought back if good grass seed was used in the first place.

"Grass is a living plant and requires certain elements in order to thrive which are supplied by fertilizers and lime. All complete fertilizers contain three major elements --nitrogen, phosphorous and potash and the percentage of each is listed in that order. Lawns require a fertilizer which is high in nitrogen and lower in phosphorous and potash such as 10-6-4 or 8-6-2.

Forms of Nitrogen

"The nitrogen in a fertilizer may be in the organic or chemical form. Organic nitrogen if derived from materials such as bean meal, castor pomace, sewage sludge or manures while chemical nitrogen comes from materials such as nitrate of soda or ammonium nitrate.

"Chemical nitrogen is readily soluble and quickly available, but does not last long and can cause burning unless it is washed or brushed off the grass. Organic nitrogen, on the other hand, is not soluble but must be broken down by soil bacteria before it becomes available, it is slowly available over a long period and will not burn.

"The ideal fertilizer program consists of three applications--early April, mid-May and early September. A fertilizer containing some chemical nitrogen would be useful now since it is fast acting and would give the lawn a fast start. An organic fertilizer would be preferable in May since it is slower acting and will keep the lawn fed during the summer.

Use not more than one pound of actual nitrogen per application--for example, 10 lbs. of a 10-6-4 or 20 lbs. of a 5-8-7 or $12\frac{1}{2}$ lbs. of 8-6-2 per 1,000 square feet.

Lime

"Lime is used to correct acidity to provide better growing conditions for the grass and soil organisms. The best form to use is ground limestone or agricultural limestone at the rate of 50 lbs. per 1,000 square feet every three years. Lime is equally as important as fertilizer, even the best seed and fertilizer would fail in a soil which is strongly acid.

Seed

"If you are starting a new lawn of patching up an old lawn try to get your seeding done before April 20," Marini advises. "And be sure to use good seed. Cheap seed is no bargain at any price.

For more complete information on lawns and their care, write for the pamphelt "For a Better Lawn" to Plymouth County Extension Service, Court House, Brockton, Mass.

Jan 3rd. Saturday the wind blows strong from E.N.E. We stowed down 45 barrels of oil in pipes between decks and overhauled our starboard pump yesterday.

Jan. 4th. Sunday the wind is strong from N.E. At 3 P.M. it veers round and rains. We tack ship. We are in hopes of getting the S.E. trades soon. The ship is loaded by the head. The sea at present being ahead she labors heavily. One of her bobstays parted at night.

Jan. 5th. Monday the wind is moderate from N. We break out shooks and heads for the cooper to set up. At 6 P.M. there is no wind but the horizon is black and gloomy. At 8 the wind comes from S.E. with rain like a deluge. We have a 5 knot breeze till 11 when it gets around to the North when we have light airs verry much like air put in motion by a wet blanket. Thus ends the day.

Jan. 6th. Tuesday begins with light airs from the North and rain coming down with a cascade. It seems really refreshing in this warm region. It likewise affords a fine opportunity for washing and making clean. The mariners seem as much delighted with it as a flock of ducks. At daylight there was a butterfly flitting about the ship. The nearest land is High Island, distant 120 miles.

Poor Gaudy thing why flutter here
Far distant from your Island Home?
Why oer the waters lone and drear
A wanderer lone why have you come?
Is it to glad the sailors eye
Whose home has long been on the sea
Or tell him that the Land is high
A Land as bright and fair as thee?
Come tiny thing Come hover near
Dont trust no more the treacherous wave,
I know the welcome is sincere
The greeting true as heart ere Gave.

It is nearly calm all day. At 6 P.M. a breeze springs up from E.NE.

Jan. 7th. Wednesday the wind is fresh from E.N.E. We saw High Island at 7 A.M. It is one of the Society Cluster. It lies in 23 - 42' South and 148 - 03' West, it being laid down on the Chart nearly correct. At noon it bore E.S.E. distant 20 miles. It is high and broken with much fertile land. Its appearance is not quite so inviting as that of many other Islands in the Pacific. But Mother Earth, let her Guise be what it will, has a powerful Charm for the heart of the sea worn Mariner. There are some Islands in this Ocean that seem as fair as the Primeval Eden when it was the abode of our first Parents and the Society Isles are not among the least favor'd of those bright spots of Earth.

Jan. 8th. Thursday the trades are fresh from E.S.E. and squally. We unbend our foretopmast, studdingsail yard and split the sail. Haul it down and unbend it.

Jan. 9th. Friday begins with fresh trades. At daylight more moderate. At ten A.M. we make the Maitea, it being high we supposed our reckoning incorrect and it was Otehita we saw but we soon found our mistake. We keep the ship off W.N.W. and at noon saw Otehita arising in gloomy grandeur crowned with clouds. All hands employed shaving and trimming hair in expectation of once more visiting the haunts of men. At sunset we are 14 miles from land it bearing N.W.

Jan. 10th. Saturday the trades are fresh from East and squally. We are lying off and on Otaihita. At daylight we are off Oatipai bay, 10 miles distant. There is heavy clouds hanging over the land charged with rain. At 7 A.M. we get it with thick fog. At 10 it clears up partially and we see the land 5 miles distant. It is very uneven and covered oer with dark green verdure and seems to be verry fertile. We see 2 or 3 sail boats inside the reef. The wind is light and nearly ahead. We get up our cables, bend them and get our anchors ready for use. We arrive off Paipieti at 3 P.M. and get a pilot in passing through the reef. It was nearly calm and the English Man of War Steamer SALAMANDER sent her boats to tow us in. There is now lying here the American Ships BRAGANZA and EUPHRATES of New Bedford and ATLANTIC of Nantucket, all bound home. I send letters the BRAGANZA. There is several other vessels here besides.

Jan. 11th, Sunday. This morning I was arous'd by the morning Gun of the SALAMANDER and the roll of her drums. The Capt. deals out money and the starboard watch goes on shore. There is now 11 vessels of all kinds here. The French have possession. Queen Pomare has left the place and is in Borobolo. Some of our men get drunk on shore and make much noise and fight a few battles with other ships crews for the honor of the ships. One was a bloody battle. I saw it from the ship. One drunken man got another down and aimed some tremendous blows at his head with his fist. His vision not being verry accurate, instead of hitting the head aimed at, he smote the ground and started the skin off his hand and shed much blood. I hope the French will not claim damage for injury sustained by the Island. Monday. This morning we unship our rudder and take it in on deck. Mr. Comstock and the Carpenter broke the Peace yesterday and the French Police put them in the stocks and kept them till 10 A.M. today when the Capt. and American Consul got them out. The Larboard watch go on shore and part come off. I go on shore at 12 for the first time and the ship BRAGANZA goes to sea.

MARION MAN ENTERTAINS AT BIRTHDAY

Mr. Benjamin Waters of Marion, Mass. entertained 125 guests on April 9th at the Old Stone Studio on Spring Street, Marion, in celebration of his 94th birthday. Mr. Waters, who is as active as many a man of half his years, enjoyed the party to the fullest. The studio is kept in good repair by the gentleman himself, preserving a building of much historic interest to the area as a very pleasant coffee shop. His memory of Marion covers a long span of years and makes him a interesting source of Marion history. Certainly no one, without being told, would belive Mr. Waters to be 94. MATTAPOISETT CENTER SCHOOL NEWS
April 22, 1957

From: Mr. MacLauchlin's fourth grade.

"Robbie the Robot" came into Mr. MacLauchlin's science class a few weeks ago! The "mechanical man" actually was made by Davey Andrews, a member of the clas. Robbie has eyes made from electric light bulbs and a body of tin cans. Nevertheless, the boys and girls found him to be an interesting person when Davey plugged him into the wall!

Diana Warburton received the first letter from a pen pal. Her pen pal received some 90 letters from all over the United States, so we can see how popular pen pals really are.

RECIPE OF THE WEEK
By Mary Lee Taylor

Beef Patties in Mushroom Gravy

- 1 lb. ground lean beef
- 2 teaspoons onion salt (see note)
- 1/8 teaspoon pepper
- 2/3 cup fresh bread crumbs
- 1 cup Pet Evaporated Milk
- 1 1/2 Tablespoons hot shortening
- 1 can cream of mushroom soup
- 1/4 cup water

Mix well in a 1 1/2-quart bowl the beef, onion salt, pepper, bread crumbs and 1/2 cup of the milk. With wet hands, shape mixture into 8 patties, about 1-inch thick. Brown patties, about 10 minutes on each side, in hot shortening in a 10-inch skillet. Take meat patties from skillet and drain off all fat. Mix in the skillet the soup, 1/2 cup of the milk and the water. Put patties into the skillet and heat until the sauce is steaming hot, but do not boil. Serve hot. Makes 4 servings.

Note: 1 Tablespoon finely cut onion and 1 teaspoon salt can replace the onion salt.

Jan. 14th, Wednesday. Today is squally. The Larboard watch go on shore and at night the ships Company is nearly all drunk. I go and view the Town and Country. I saw the French Graveyard, the last resting place of the French sailors and soldiers that were killed in driving the simple Islanders from their homes. Not far off in a beautiful grove I saw the last homes of some of my own Countrymen as a light tropical breeze whispered through the tops of the trees that overshadow'd them. It seemed as if their spirits were hovering near.

I walk around 2 or 3 hours and see what I can of Native life and manners. This day I saw a new character, a Mormon missionary. He firmly believes his faith and the spirit of the Martyr shone forth from his eye. The Capt. gets a permit to go to Point Venus with the carpenter to look for a stick for a rudder. She reports hostilities commenced there by the French. The Bark SCIENCE of New Bedford is now lying off this Port, 18 mos. out, 1600 barrels. Capt. Chester came back from his excursion to Point Venus. He is successful in finding a tree suitable for a rudder. This afternoon I saw the funeral procession of a French Corporal that committed suicide last night by blowing his brains out. He has gone to help people the New City of the Silent that quietly lies at the foot of the mountain. He had lived long enough, poor fellow. His friends that were near and dear in his own Native Land will in vain expect his return.

Jan. 18th, Sunday. Today we paint the larboard side of the Ship and the larboard watch go on shore. Courtland I. Shepherd is taken up and imprisoned. He is accused of stealing money from a Native. The cook gets drunk, abuses the Captain on shore. The French Police take him and start for prison. He breaks away, rushes into the water and swims for the ship. A boat picks him up, he gets onboard. The Police come after him. He tears Capt.

Chester's shirt off him. The Boat steerers resist seizing him up. The Police interfere and the Capt. finally gives him a sound thrashing. This day comes into port Ship GEN. SCOT of New London, 7 mos. out, 200 barrels, Bark SCIENCE of New Bedford, 18 mos. out, 1600, and a Hamburg Brig.

Jan. 18th. Monday the Starboard watch go on shore and we paint the Starboard side of the ship. The Capt. gets a stick from the French Government and we get it on board. The ship FENELON of New Bedford comes in and she is 14 mos. out with 200 barrels. The French Police let C. E. Shepherd out of prison today. The wind has been verry fresh today with heavy breakers on the reef.

Jan. 19th. Tuesday we stow down water and the Carpenter begins work on the rudder. The Larboard watch goes on shore. I go into the Country and find a sugar Plantation in ruins. The marks of fire had been there. The boilers and water wheel were in their places. Ruin had spread her wing over it. We hear that the French have assaulted Huahierre and kill'd some of the Inhabitants. Bad luck to them.

Jan. 20th. Wednesday the carpenter is at work upon the rudder. The Starboard watch go on shore. Capt. Chester and Capt. Sistare get a pass to go to leeward after potatoes. It rains heavy all day. At 2 P.M. the French man of war Steamer came in from Huahierre. She landed some wounded and rumor says the French lost 25 killed and 40 wounded. They are silent on the subject.

Jan. 21st. Thursday is cloudy and wet. The Capt. comes back from the leeward with no potatoes. Part of the Larboard watch go on shore. I get news from Huahierre. The French assaulted the place and were handled rather roughly by about 20 wild Americans from the back woods and as many more English and Scotchmen. The French report their loss at 21 killed and 45 wounded. I believe they had to retreat to their ships. As I went on shore this afternoon an Officer of the English Steamer says to me Your Countrymen have been showing them backwoods play down in Huahierre. There was 18 Americans, one Scotchman and one Englishman with the Natives. It has created quite a sensation here.

Jan. 23rd. Friday rain falls in torrents all day. We fill 13 casks of water. The torrent from the hills carry some of the GEN. SCOTT'S water Casks out on the reef. We help get them alongside. Just at dark the Starboard watch go onshore. The cook comes onboard to his duty again. The Capt. notifies the Cutter that he will go to sea Tuesday if possible.

Jan. 24th, Saturday. This morning we get off our raft of water and stow it down. The Larboard watch go on shore. I attend the native meeting it being Sunday with them. An English Missionary preached in the native tongue. He told me, owing to the troubled state of the Island the Congregation was thin. I thought it respectable. The Daughters of Eve I find are the same here as elsewhere. They are given to finery on Sunday. In the afternoon one of the French sailors that was wounded at Huahierre took up his abode in the City of the Silent. I saw a load of coffins going to the hospital. I am told there is many more just ready to depart hence.

Jan. 25th. Sunday we are at work at the rudder. The starboard watch go on shore. The French are expecting a visit from the Natives in the mountains and are making Great preparations to defend themselves.

fruit trees, shade trees and shrubs to control certain insects and diseases", advises Dominic Marini of the Plymouth County Extension Service. "For example, the overwintering female euonymus scales may be controlled now before their eggs are laid by spraying thoroughly with a dinitro such as DN-289 or Elgetol 318. Be careful around buildings, however, as this material stains.

"Dinitros may also be used on apple trees just as the buds start to swell but before the bud scales separate to control rosy aphid, bud moth and oystershell scale where these pests are a problem.

"Superior oils may be used on apples at delayed dormant, before buds show green, to control European red mite, San Jose scale, clover mite and rosy aphid. Oils are also used on pears and other trees to control various aphids and scales. Oils should be applied early in the day on bright, sunny days when drying conditions are good and when temperatures are not expected to fall below freezing at night.

"Overwintering female aphids which cause the pineapple-shaped galls on the tips of spruce branches may be controlled by spraying with malathion before April 15 using $1\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoons of the liquid form per gallon of water or 4 tablespoons of 25% wettable powder. This same material can be used to control the maple bladder gall - small reddish 'warts' on upper leaf surfaces. Spray before May 1 and repeat when leaves are 1/3 grown.

MATTAPOISETT

It was a century ago
When boundary lines were drawn
Through a part of Old Rochester
To found another town.
After years of controversy
The village faction won.
And in eighteen-fifty-seven
This township was begun.
From early times the Indians
Knew the charm it possessed
And they called it Mattapoisett,
Which means a place of rest.
And truly the tranquility
Does lure one to repose
Where pine and cedar rim the shore
And salt wind ever blows.
But men shall toil before they rest,
So busy shops and mills
Down through the years have turned out
The products of their skills.
The crude saltworks, the cooper shops.
The blacksmiths had their day;
And many were the whaling ships
Built here and sailed away.
There were sawmills and mills for grist,
And rocky soil to farm,
While artisans built churches, tall
And homes with old time charm.

Now the years have brought great changes
For progress marches on -
The old saltworks, the blacksmith shops,
The whaleships, all are gone.
But the cool salt wind blows the same,
And the moon shining bright,
Still spreads a silvery pathway
Across the bay at night.
Each spring the herrings run again,
And folks still come to rest
In Mattapoisett by the sea -
The place that Nature blest.
